Horace Greeley said, "Go West, young man, go West." Hundreds of pioneers and settlers took his advice and risked their lives to settle the West and help America grow.

Because of the danger of marauding Indians, few settlers lived as far west as this area in 1843. In that year several peace councils were held between representatives of the U.S. Army and the local Indians, the result being that the Indians were required to stay west of a line passing through the present site of Fort Worth. Since that day 124 years ago, Fort Worth has been known as the city "Where the West Begins."

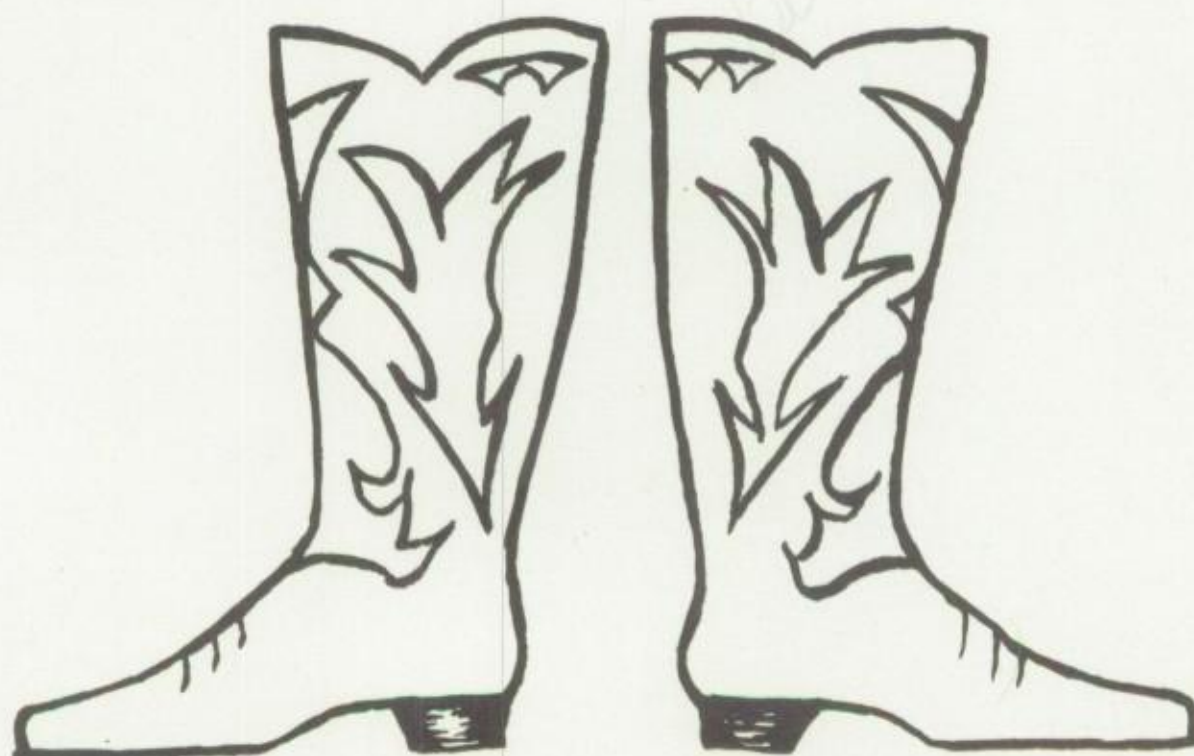

The influence of the West is evident in our city today in Heritage Hall, which tells of the early history of Fort Worth from 1849 to the coming of the railroad in 1876. The World's Original Indoor Rodeo is annually held in Fort Worth as part of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show staged at Will Rogers Memorial Center. In addition, Fort Worth serves as one of the nation's largest livestock-marketing and processing centers.

As a tribute to our western heritage, the 1967 Clan recalls memories of early Fort Worth.

Hoedowns

Fort Worth has developed a reputation as being a "fun city." It is the home of museums and art centers, parks and botanical gardens, movie theaters, and Casa Manana, a nationally renowned theater-in-the-round, which brings Broadway to Fort Worth during the summer. Casa Manana was created originally in 1936 as this city's contribution to the Texas Centennial celebration. For this occasion Amon Carter signed Billy Rose, known then as "Broadway's little Barnum," for $1000 a day for 100 days to produce a "show of shows." Sallie Rand, Eddie Foy, Jr., the bands of Paul Whiteman and Joe Venuti, and other big names were brought in to sing, play, or dance to songs especially written for the show. Pictured is the Texas Spring Palace, a showplace long before Casa Manana.

Registration Begins Fall Semester

Homeroom was the first stop for juniors on registration day. Mrs. Priddy hands a program of classes to Ross Churman.

"At last," sighs Kent Harrington, senior, as Miss Swain, his homeroom teacher, finally accepts his schedule on registration day.

Mrs. Calhoun, business education teacher, advises Mary Conatser, junior, about how to complete her schedule.

"One step at a time," warns Mr. Sisserson as he and Bob Dodd wait at the cafeteria door during senior registration.

Howdy Day Welcomes Sophomores

Miss Swain, English teacher, is given a silver dollar by Y-Teens' president Jerri Mason. Miss Swain was the first person to say "Howdy" to the mystery faculty member, Coach Howerton.

Since the beginning of Eastern Hills, Howdy Day, sponsored by Y-Teens, has become an important tradition. It is instigated each year for the purpose of making all new students feel welcome and to become acquainted with the other students of Eastern Hills.

A person from each class and one from the faculty is chosen to be the mystery representative, and the first Highlander to say "Howdy" to the representative of his class is awarded a silver dollar in the pep rally that afternoon.

The student mystery persons were Linda Nabors, sophomore; Steve Hillum, junior; and Deborah Thompson, senior.

Homecoming Hails

Coming-Home Queen was Marsha McCarty, of the class of '64, escorted by Mike Henry and Lewis Miller.

This year's Homecoming Queen was senior Debbie Thompson. Football team captains Brad Sledge and Eddie Douglas were her escorts.

Highlander Exes

A very necessary part of high school is school spirit. Eastern Hills students do many things to heighten their spirit, such as decorating homerooms, having pep rallies, and making posters to display in the auditorium during the pep rallies.

Pep rallies are an essential part of the football season. Zana Underwood and Randy Cole, two of the Highlander cheerleaders, lead a yell to build spirit for the Homecoming game.

"Touche!" shouts Joey Herr as he swats a "cougar" in Mrs. Cox's homeroom. Since Paschal was the homecoming opponent, many homerooms used the panther as part of their decorations.

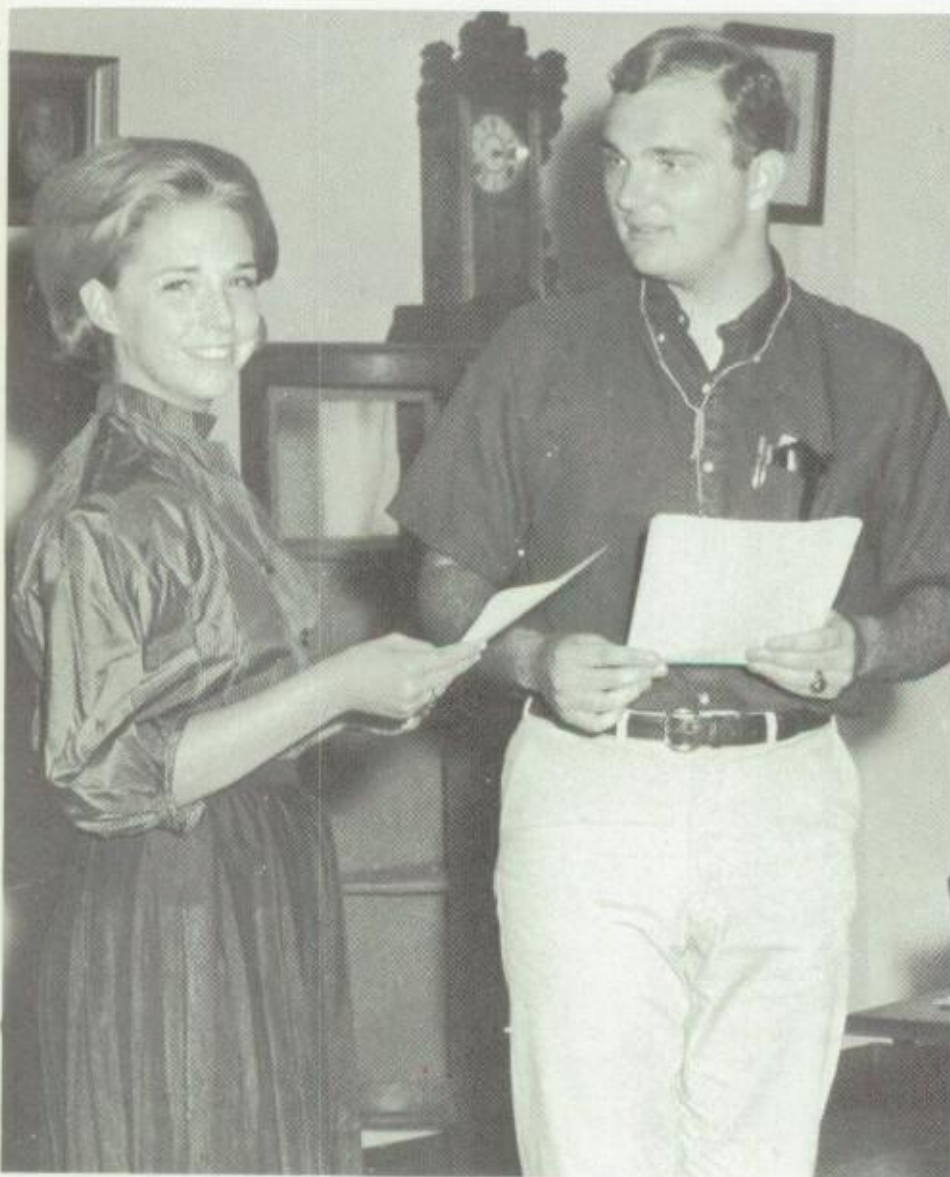

Bill Braddy, Eastern Hills drum major, leads Highlander band during game. In addition to backing the student body in the stands during games, the band entertains at half-time.

Kidd; Jackie, Tommy Williams; Lillian, Cindy Wehrmann; Mr. Gilbreth, Steve Newburn; and Mrs. Gilbreth, Sherrie Davenport.

"Cheaper by the Dozen" Lays Golden Egg

Supporting actress, Sherrie Davenport, and leading man, Steve Newburn, study their lines together in preparation for the play.

Each year, the Eastern Hills drama department produces two plays, one in the fall and one in the spring. This fall the drama classes and their sponsor, Mrs. Heberle, chose to give "Cheaper by the Dozen," which was well received. The play is a delightful story of a large family of twelve children and how they lived and grew together in their early 1900's environment. The unusual title is adapted from an expression the father used when he was asked why he had such a large family. "Children," he would say, "come cheaper by the dozen."

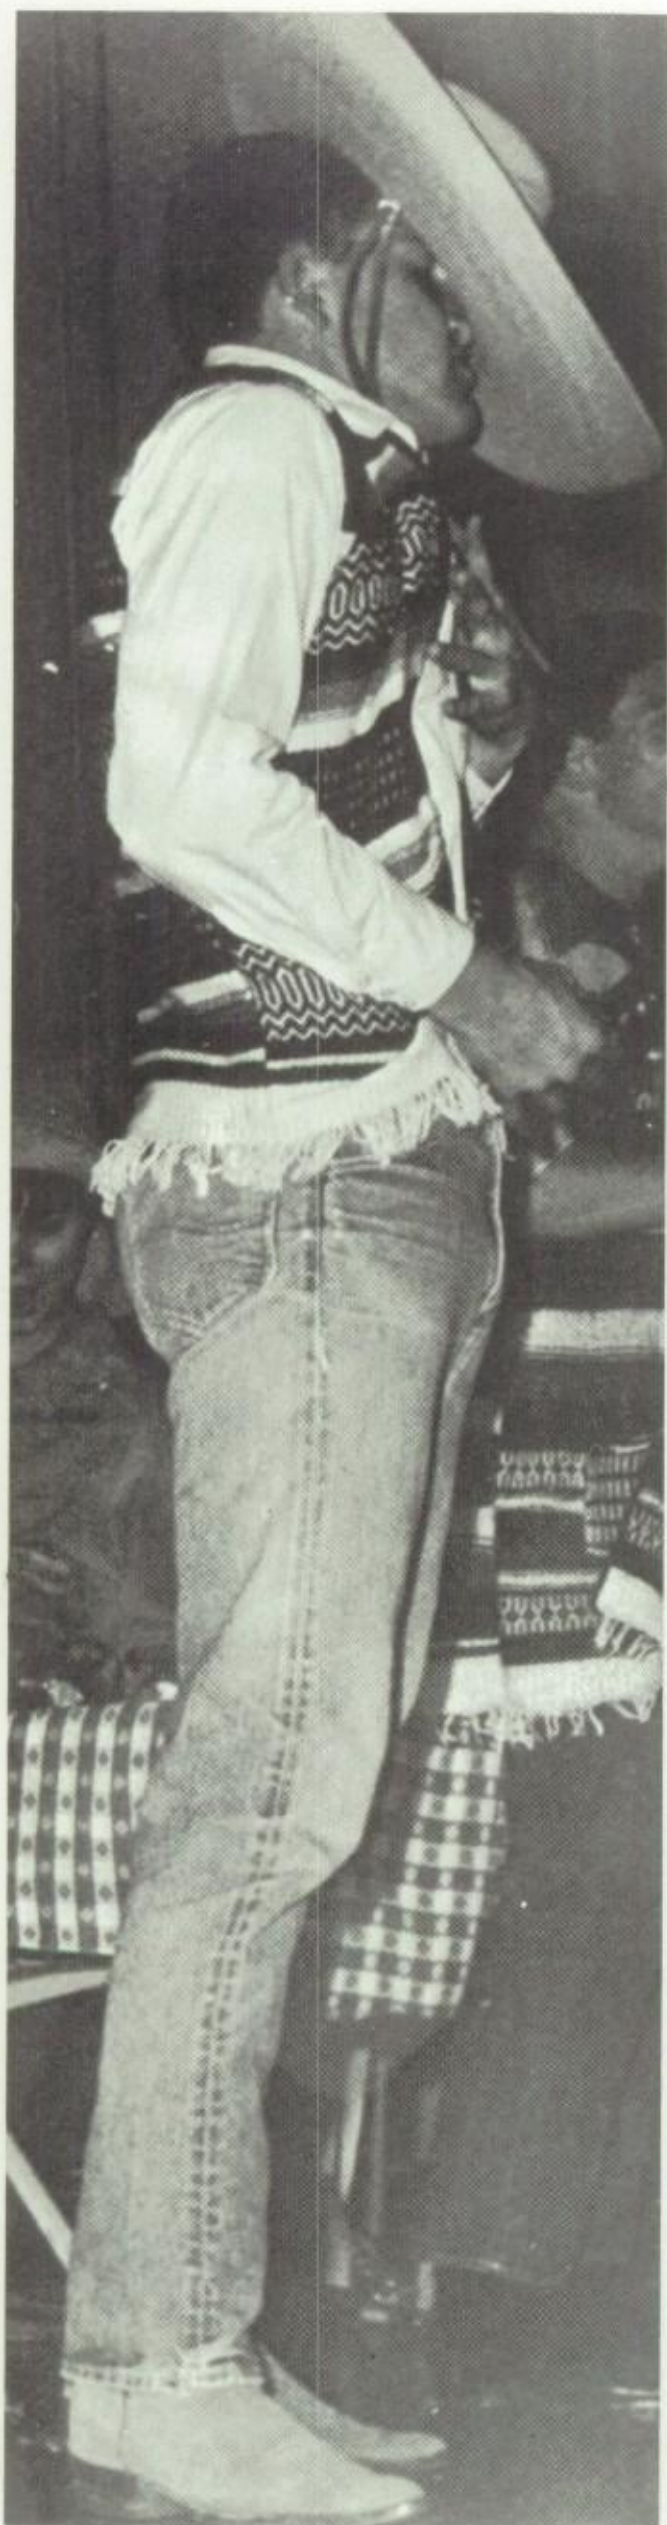

"And they told me I only had two lines to say," sighs Deborah Nelson at play rehearsal. Deborah was awarded best actress honors. Jack Graham was awarded best actor honors.

Posing for an old-fashioned family portrait are Rodney Lagasse and Barbara George. Rodney and Barbara played brother and sister in "Cheaper by the Dozen." The play itself was built around the reminiscence of the two characters. Both received honorable mention honors for the best actor and actress.

Ranch Day Spurs Stock Show Spirit

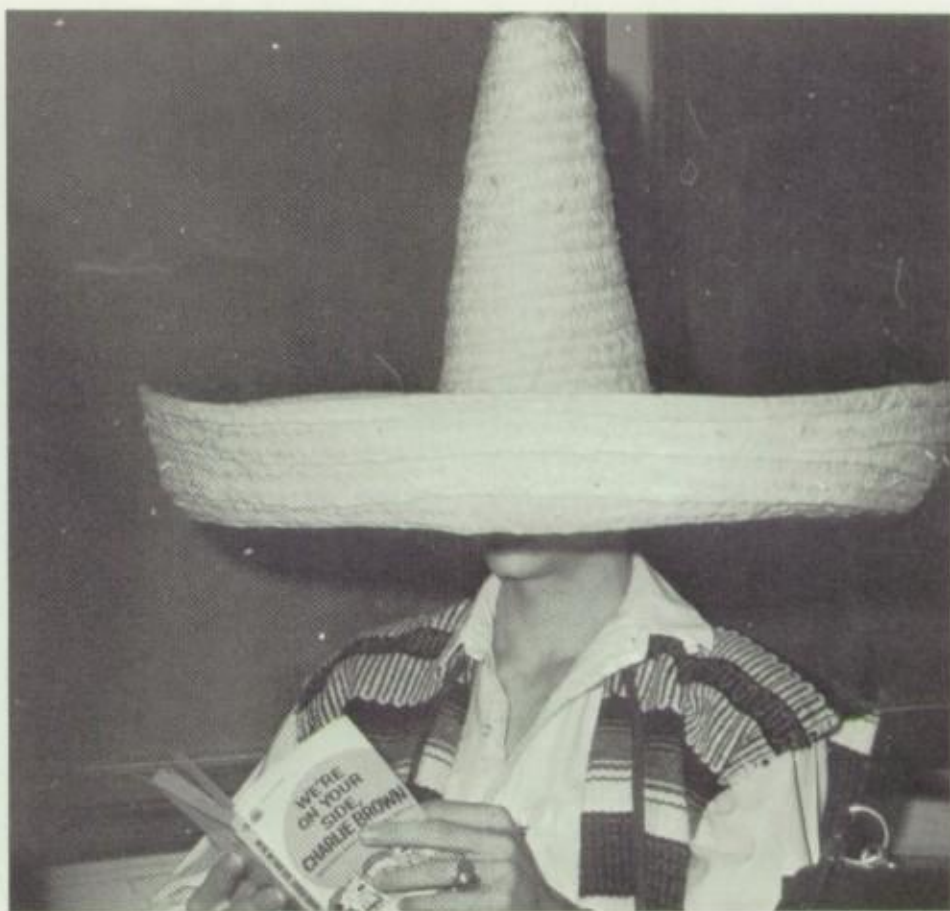

"I can't stand the sight of blood," cowers South-of-the-Border cowboy, Steve Luebbehusen.

"Old-time religion" of Western days is represented by the costumes of George Curl and Christine Melanson.

"All right you, varmit, draw," orders Donna Scudday, dressed in her western poncho bought in Old Mexico.

"In my opinion, the synopsis of the play . . ." says a typical Eastern Hill scholar caught up in the spirit of Ranch Day.

The tradition of Texas is Western. Rodeos, spurs, boots, longhorns — all are part of the Texan's heritage.

Each year, citizens of Fort Worth commemorate the state's history with a rodeo which inspires a little of the old ranch flavor. Ranch Day is part of this tradition and is celebrated in public schools all over Fort Worth to get the students "in the saddle" for the Stock Show and all that goes with it.

A look of joy is evident on the face of Vicki Hibbs as she hears her number called as the Ranch Day Queen of 1967. Also a candidate was senior Linda Melear.

"Sounds a little goofus to me," sings Jeanne Hatcher, one of ten finalists in the pageant.

Bonnie Pemberton, former queen, sings the pageant's opening number.

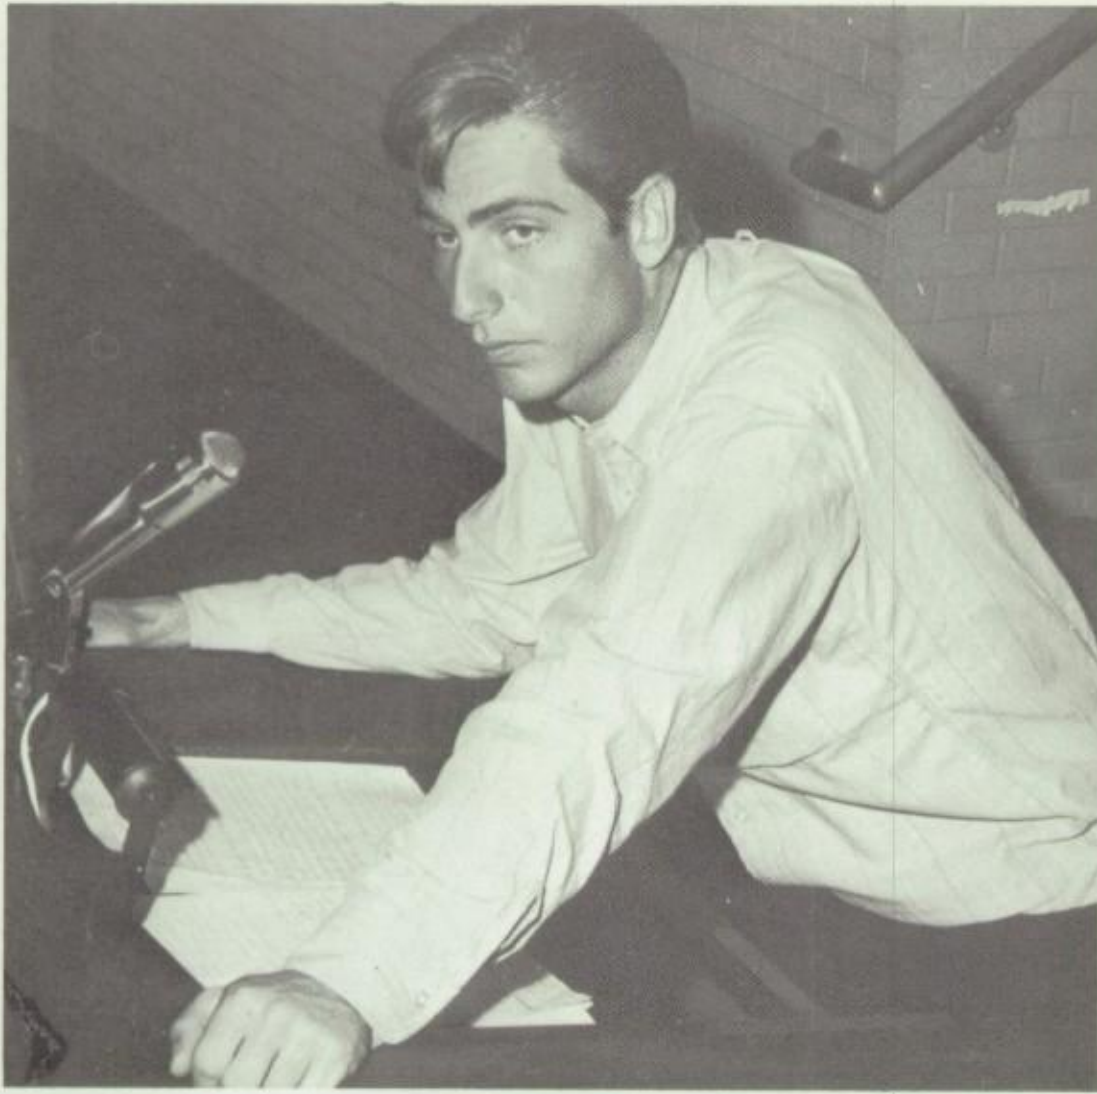

Senior Wins Big E Title

Debbie Thompson smiles happily after being chosen "Miss Congeniality" by other contestants.

Danny Potter, senior, rehearses his role as emcee for the Big E.

Barbara George, foreground, rushes on stage upon being announced first runner-up as Barbara Stansberry realizes she has won the title of the 1967 Big "E" Beauty Queen.

Deborah Nelon, one of the five finalists, answers a question asked by emcee, Danny Potter, as the judges determine the personality of the girls.

A happy Barbara Stansberry is congratulated by Melinda Slone, Rickee Richardson, and Mary Buyers.

Troylites Perform Wilder's "Our Town"

George Gibbs and Emily Webb, played by Greg Connell and Barbara George, listen to Emily's father dispel their last-minute fears of marriage. Mr. Webb was played by Bill Johnston.

"Nice town, know what I mean," drawls stage manager, Bill Stephens. Bill's part as narrator of the play was typical of contemporary drama, as it added informality and audience involvement to the play.

The 1967 spring play, "Our Town", is a contemporary play written by Thornton Wilder. The play consists of three acts designed to trace the lives of people in a small town in the early twentieth century. One of the characteristics of this type of play is the almost total absence of scenery and dependence on the actors for the full atmosphere of the play.

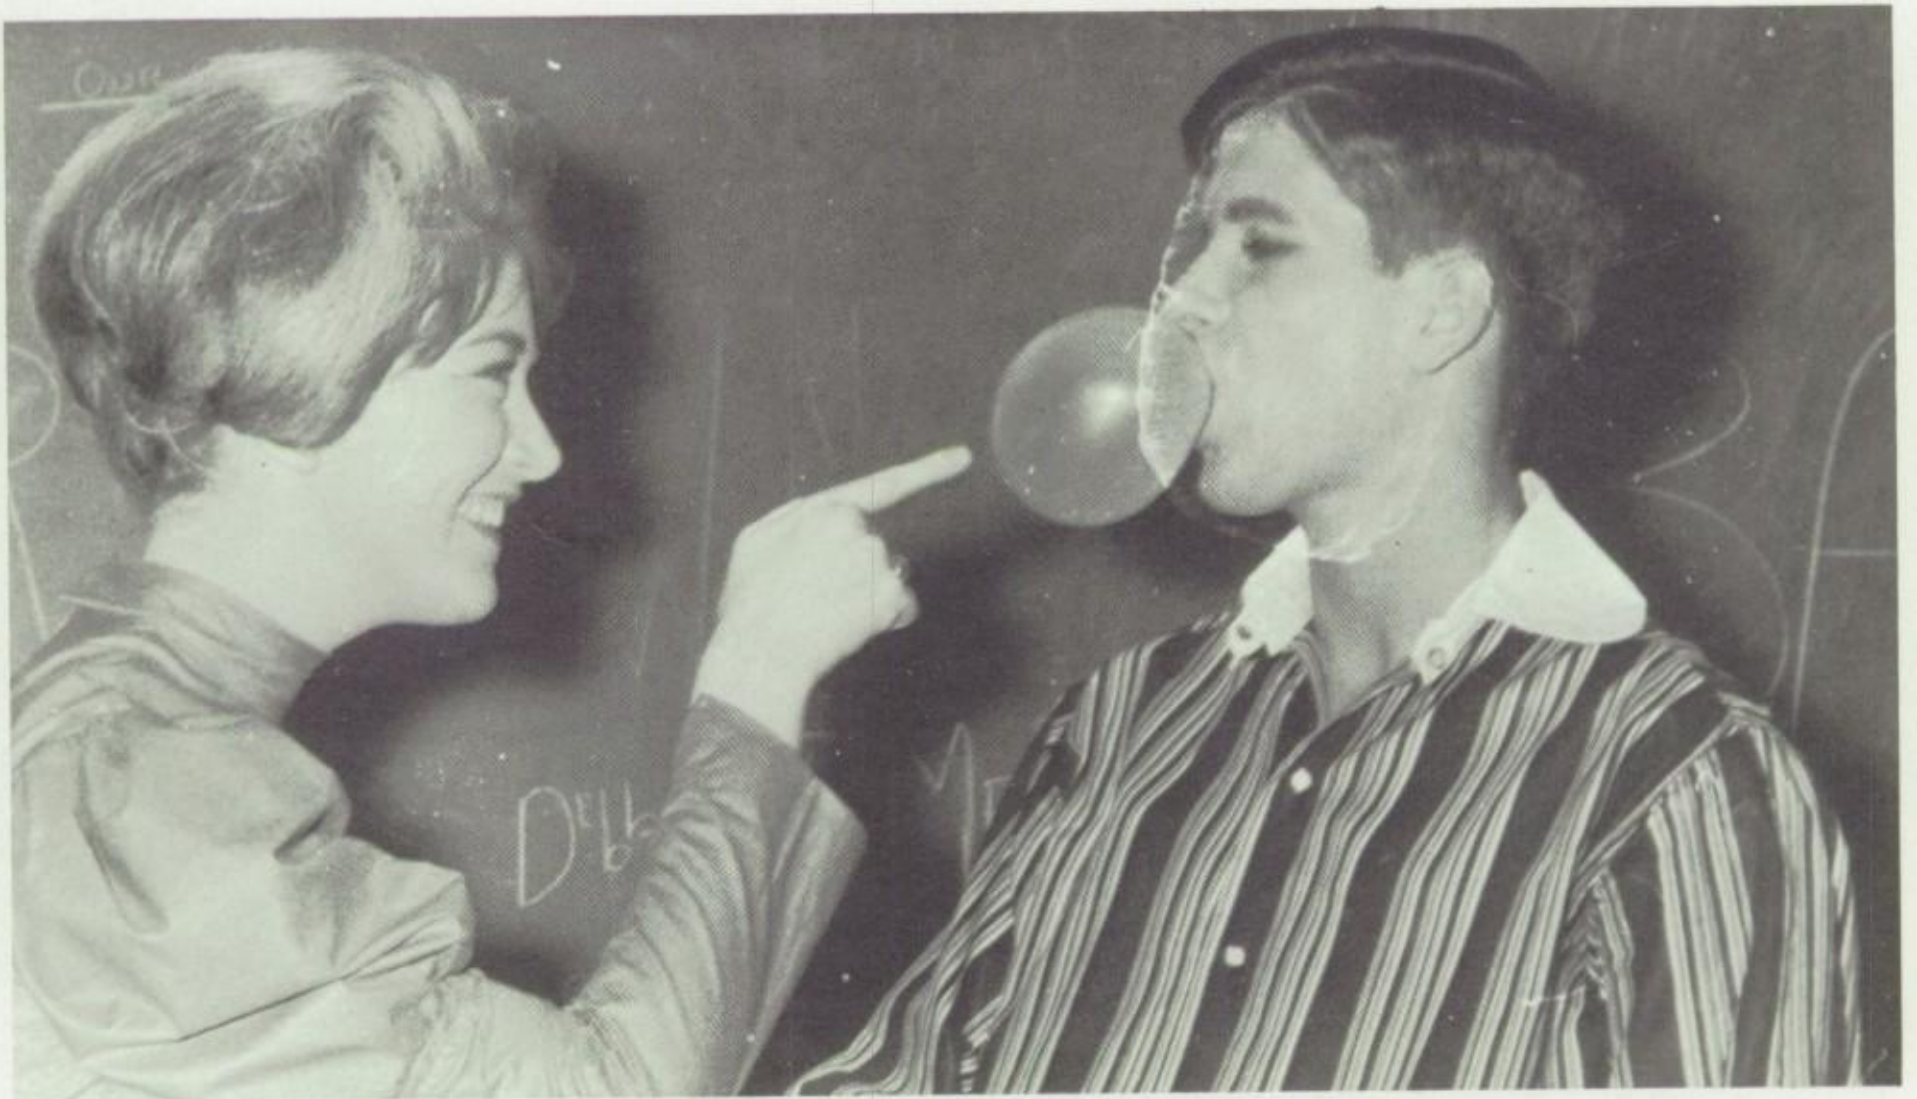

Mrs. Gibbs, Mrs. Soames, and Mrs. Webb discuss the disgraceful conduct of those in the small town of Grover's Corners. The ladies are played by Debbie Thompson, Nancy Dennis, and Cindy Wehrmann.

"Look! They're finished! They're going!" Emily Webb turns her back on the proceedings of her own funeral, having observed it from the spiritual world. This scene from the third act shows members of the Congregational choir of the town played by members of the select choir of Eastern Hills and Barbara George, leading lady of the play.

Debbie Thompson and Greg Connell engage in a little fun between acts of the play. Debbie played Mrs. Gibbs and Greg played her son, George Gibbs.

"Meese-ca, Moose-ca, Mousekateers," sing Mousekateers Rickee Richardson and Karen McCulley to Mickey Mouse, Tommy Harmon, and Minnie Mouse, Cindy Maddox.

Y-Teens Exhibit Living Dolls

"Dear Santa," reads Santa Claus, Steve Patton, as his helper, Sherry Keeton, waits to deliver another doll to its proud owner.

'67 Seniors Celebrate With Banquet

Dwight Smith and Joy Grimes dance to music by a professional group. The dance concluded the evening at the country club.

"The Shadow Of Your Smile" was the song Brad Sledge sang for the senior class at its banquet. The selection was a runner-up for class song.

The evening of the senior banquet began with a delicious meal followed by a program including three solos, Bonnie Pemberton, singing "Born Free," Brad Sledge, singing "The Shadow Of Your Smile," and Melinda Slone, singing "Lara's Theme." After an intermission, a dance was held with music by a professional band.

Trail Bosses

Formal education in Fort Worth has a 113 year history. The first school in the city, located in an old army hospital building, was opened by John Peter Smith in January, 1854. Because of ill health, Smith closed the school after a short time. Various efforts were made in the community for education of children during the 1860's and 1870's. In the summer of 1882, a special census revealed sufficient population to qualify the city for a public school system. Therefore, a one cent school tax was levied, and the school system was assured. This first public school system of Fort Worth operated until 1925. At this time an act of the legislature created the present Fort Worth independent school district. Rodeos

In the late 1800's few football, basketball, or baseball teams drew large crowds wherever they played. These sports had not yet become a part of the peoples' lives as they are today. In that era men, women, and children looked to the rodeo to bring them all the excitement and activity that today's sports bring us. In 1896 the first Fort Worth Fat Stock Show was held under a group of shade trees along Marine Creek, not far from the present stock yards. Unlike this year's contestants, who vied for over $115,000, those first cowboys competed for such prizes as western hats, saddles, spurs, bridles, boots, and small jewelry donated by local store keepers. Pictured is an early Fort Worth National Bank baseball team.

Cougars Abbreviate Advance in Playoffs

'Twas the night before the Arlington Heights game, and it appeared the Clansmen wouldn't be making a trip to Dallas. Then, lo and behold, the North Side Steers upset the Paschal Panthers, placing the championship up for grabs. Playing probably their finest game of the year, the Highlanders soundly swatted the Yellow Jackets 23-8, earning Eastern Hills its first out-right football championship.

The following week, the Scots journeyed to Dallas. However, Eastern Hills' trip to the state playoffs was ephemeral; Bryan Adams whipped the Highlanders 35-14. The Cougars, taking advantage of miscues, outdistanced Hills 374 yards to 214 yards. A 35-yard run by Eddie Douglas and a 4-yard pass to end John Hetherly produced the only two Highlander tallies.

The Clansmen had a 7-2-1 regular season record with the two losses being at the hands of Richland and Poly. The 4A-5 champion, dominated the All-District team placing seven men on the dream team. Guard Charles Smith, end Hetherly, halfback Douglas, and quarterback Tommy Harmon were on offense while tackle Jon Thornburg, tackle Jack White, and linebacker Steve Luebbehusen completed the defensive platoon. Receiving honorable mention honors were Philip Berry, Paul Tatum, Brad Sledge, and Les Griffin.

In district statistics, Harmon was second in scoring with 30 points and finished third in the passing department, completing 44 of 91 for 444 yards. Fullback Steve Bell rushed for 294 yards on 56 carries, second best in district. Hetherly, who handled the punting chores, booted the ball 1,361 yards for an average of 40 yards a kick. Finishing second in district, he caught 17 passes for 326 yards.

John Hetherly grimaces as a defending Cougar wraps around him.

Attending to the needs of the '66 Highlander football team were managers Jim Reid, Robert Curry, and John Bridwell.

Connected field goal made the difference as the Richland Rebels slipped by favored Eastern Hills 9-7. Although the Clansmen gained 332 offensive yards to the Rebels' 218, Richland was able to capitalize on its offensive drives while the Highlanders, twice inside the 20-yard line, failed to register points on the scoreboard.

After a scoreless first half, Richland moved from Hills' 49 to the 4-yard line. From there Eddie Johnson booted a field goal to give the Rebels a 3-0 lead. Recovering a Highlander fumble, the Rebels marched 55 yards to paydirt as quarterback Bobby Kugle circled right end for the touchdown.

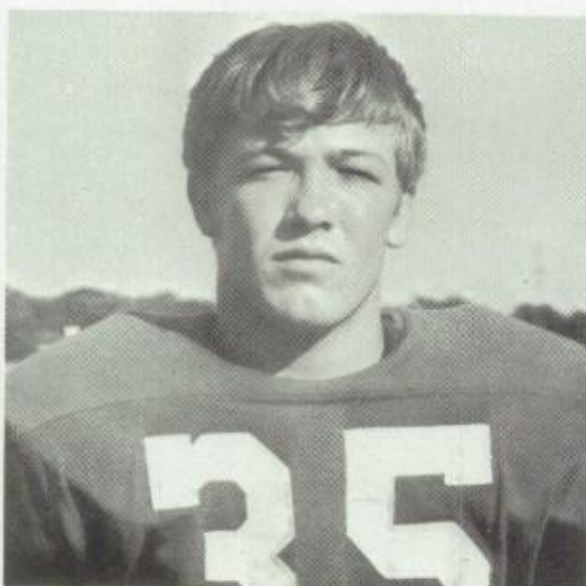

Hampered throughout the night by penalties, Eastern Hills finally cranked up the offensive machine effectively. Late in the fourth quarter, quarterback Tommy Harmon guided the team to the 3-yard line. Then, halfback Les Griffin scampered through right guard for 6 points. Jimmy Stevens, who had failed in two previous field goal attempts, made the extra point.

Game at a Glance

Eastern Hills sailed its way past Haltom in hobbling the Buffaloes 19-6. The difference was produced by the towering punts of end John Hetherly, who booted one 71 yards downfield. Following this long punt with 21 seconds remaining in the first half, fullback Steve Bell scored the first of his two tallies.

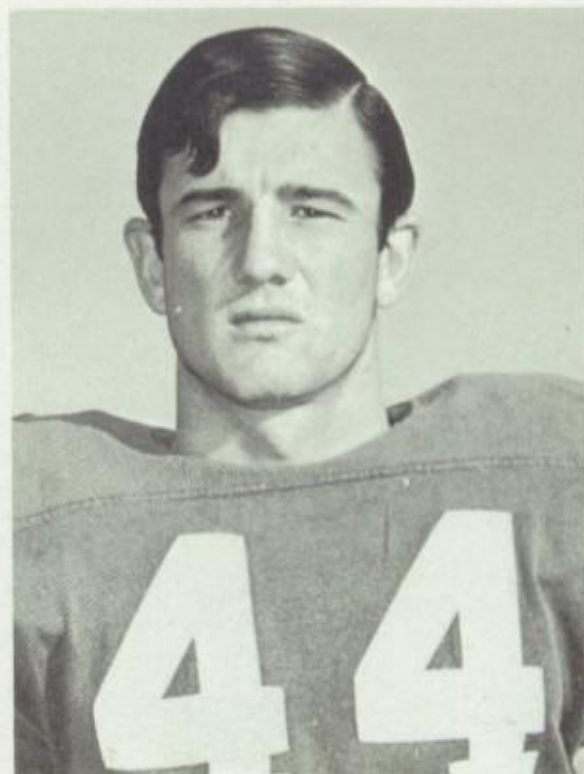

Halted by the Highlander defense, the Buffs punted to Joey Herr, who returned the ball to the Haltom 32. Six plays later, Bell followed tackle Philip Berry and guard Charles Smith 8 yards for the score.

Midway through the final period, the Clansmen cranked up an offensive attack covering 60 yards, the finale of the 15-play drive being a 10-yard burst by Bell for the TD.

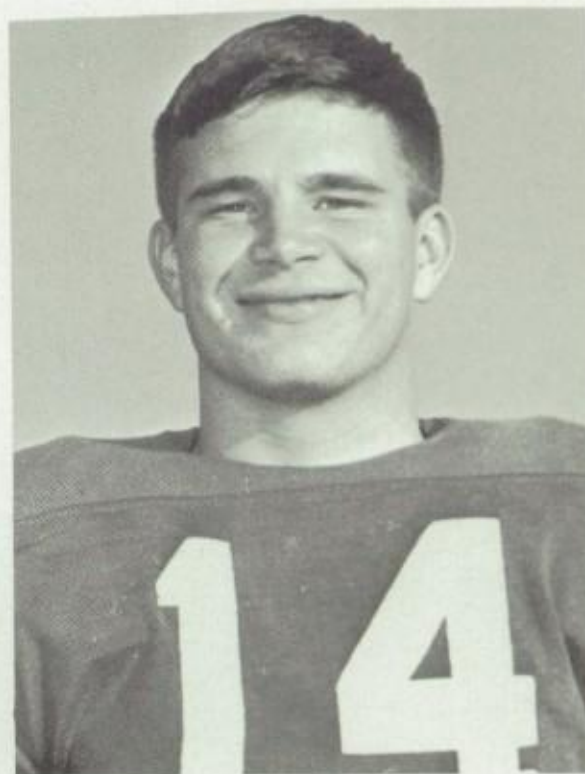

Following a short Haltom punt, the Highlanders again invaded the Buffalo end zone, this time halfback doing the honors from 5 yards out.

The game was marred by 168 yards in penalties, 81 of the steps being counted against the Highlanders. The rushing chores were handled by Bell, who carried 14 times for 59 yards, and Griffin, who rushed for 157 yards on 17 tries.

Deciding to test the scoreboard lights, Eastern Hills ran for 6 touchdowns and passed for 3 more in its 61-8 lashing of visiting Waco University. Even the mighty Trojan Horse couldn't have stopped the fighting Clansmen as they pounded out 413 yards on that September night.

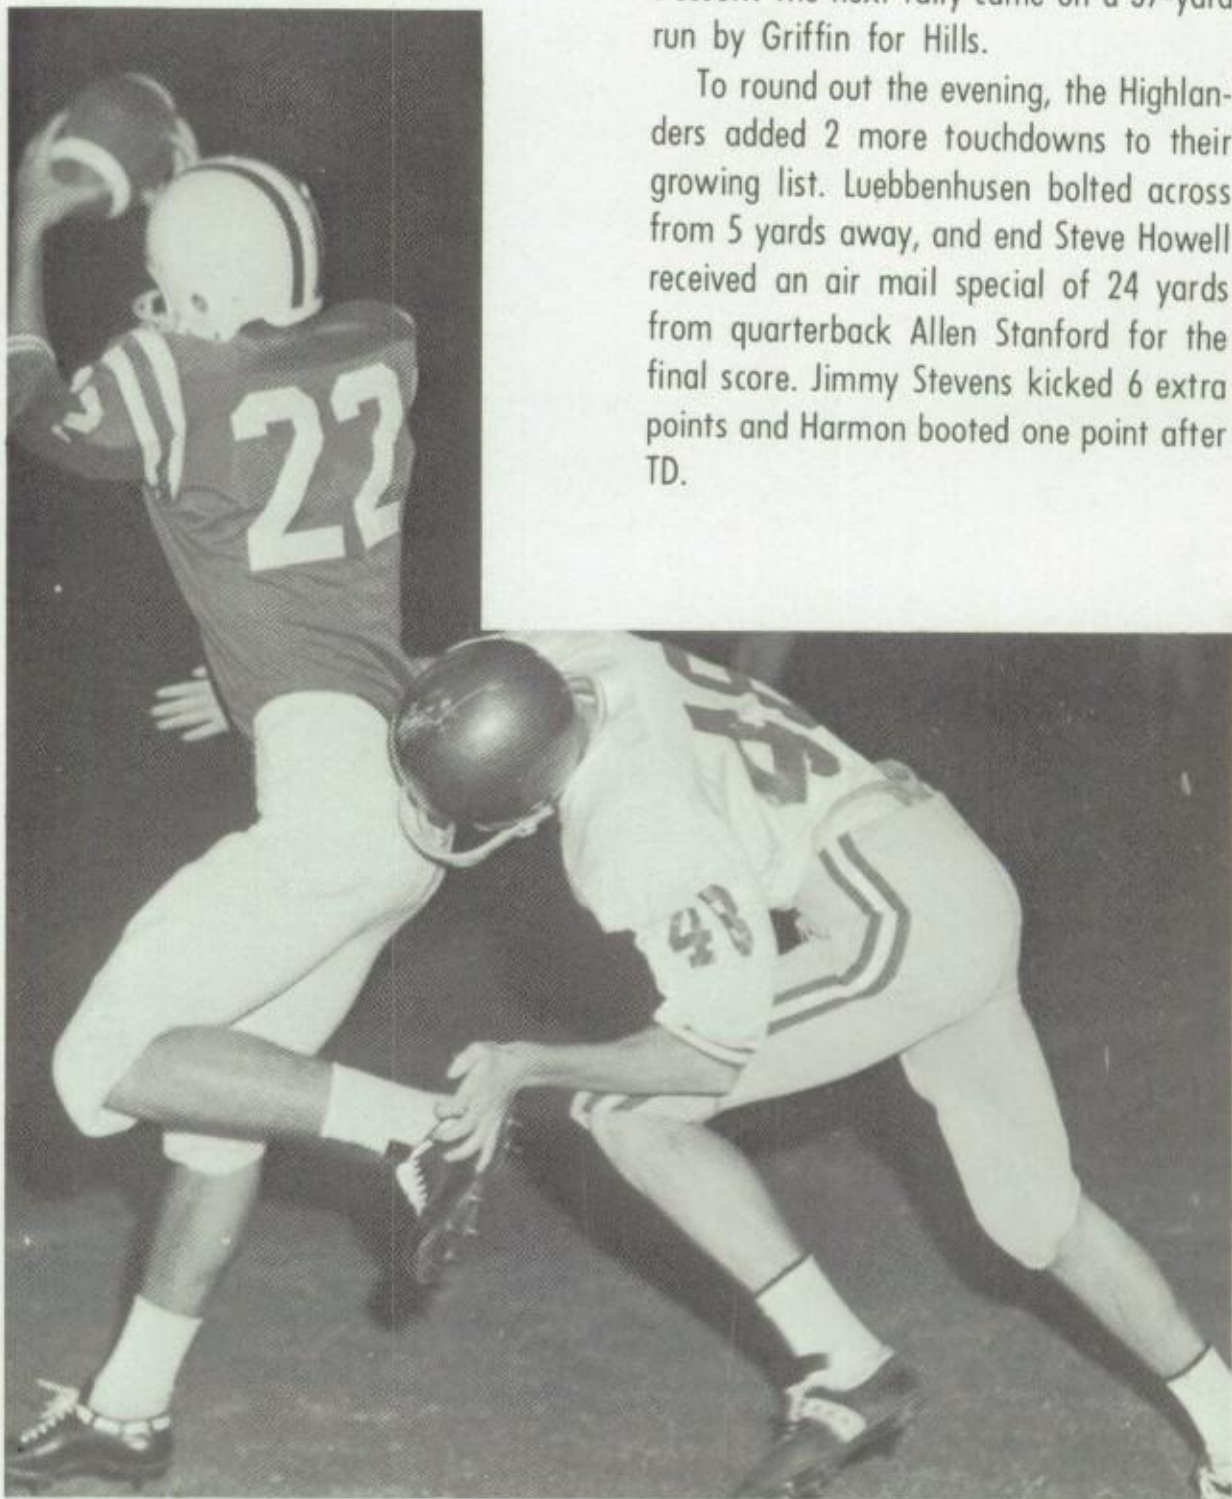

Within the first nine minutes, Hills had registered 27 points on the scoreboard. Halfback Les Griffin drew the first 6 points as he rambled across from the 2-yard line. From 4 yards out quarterback Tommy Harmon rolled around right end into the end zone. Then Steve Luebbehusen banged through from a yard away. Completing the first quarter scoring, fullback Steve Bell scampered 8 yards around end for the tally.

Harmon then decided to pass for the 2 touchdowns in the second quarter. A scoring strike of 38 yards to end Ronnie Strebeck and another of 24 yards to end John Hetherly left the score 41-0 at half-time.

University started the second-half scoring with a 2-yard run by quarterback Bill Dossett. The next tally came on a 37-yard run by Griffin for Hills.

To round out the evening, the Highlanders added 2 more touchdowns to their growing list. Luebbehusen bolted across from 5 yards away, and end Steve Howell received an air mail special of 24 yards from quarterback Allen Stanford for the final score. Jimmy Stevens kicked 6 extra points and Harmon booted one point after TD.

Breaking the ice in a scoreless duel in the third quarter on a 20-yard scoring strike from quarterback Tommy Harmon to end Ronnie Strebeck, the Highlanders proceeded to romp over Dallas Adamson 20-0.

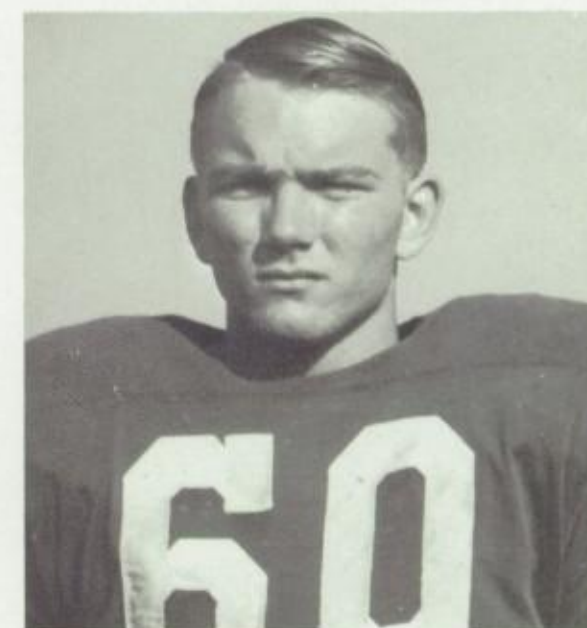

Shortly after the initial tally, Joey Herr hauled in an Adamson punt on his own 49 and rambled into the end zone for another score. Following Jimmy Stevens' PAT, the Clansmen were in command 13-0.

Fullback Steve Bell put the game away with a 7-yard charge to paydirt — in the fourth quarter. The final TD was set up by the defensive unit which stopped its opponents on a fourth down situation at the 19.

End John Hetherly was a big difference, keeping Adamson locked up in its own end of the field with his booming punts. Defensive back Jim Fleming was also a harassment to the Dallas team.

Jimmy Stevens' extra point brought the Highlanders from the brink of defeat as Eastern Hills nosed out the North Side Steers 21-20.

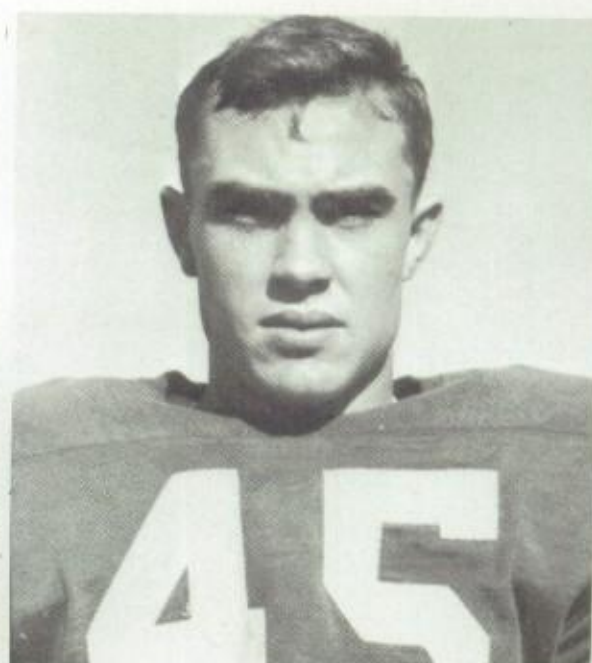

Until the final moments, it appeared the Clansmen were headed for an upset. Steer quarterback Bennie Carnes began the scoring with a nine-yard pass to end Gary Martinec. However, Dwight Cullum missed his first of two extra point tries.

Hills soon made the score 7-6 when quarterback Tommy Harmon stumbled over from the 4. The Steers received a gift touchdown by gathering Joey Herr's fumble on the 18. Again, Carnes took part in the scoring barrage with a 10-yard keeper around right end. Then, Harmon guided the Clansmen 70 yards in 13 plays and skipped into the end zone from the one for the tally.

After band-time, North Side fullback Randy Graves capped a 90-yard drive with 6 points, slashing over from the 4-yard line. In the final period, linebacker Steve Luebbenhusen pounced on a Carnes fumble. From the 2, fullback Steve Bell plunged into the end zone. Under pressure, Stevens booted his third consecutive point after touchdown for the margin of victory.

Rivalry Ends in Cat Game 10-10

Eastern Hills battled the Paschal Panthers to a 10-10 deadlock in the Highlander Homecoming game on October 21. In a wild finish the Panthers lifted themselves into a tie by capping a 74-yard drive with a 3 pointer from 33 yards away with two seconds in the game.

Hills scored first in the third quarter on a 3-yard plunge by quarterback Tommy Harmon; Jimmy Stevens added the PAT. Safety Stevens snared a Panther pass on his 16 and returned it to the Paschal 40. Eight plays later, he booted the pigskin 21 yards for 3 points and a Highlander lead of 10-7.

The Highlander defensive unit sparkled all evening, holding the Panther offense to 82 yards on the ground and 103 yards through the air.

Eastern Hills blitzed the Carter Eagles for 3 touchdowns in the fourth quarter and went on to blast them 34-7.

The Clan opened the scoring with an 8-yard pass from quarterback Tommy Harmon to end Ronnie Strebeck. Jimmy Stevens kicked his first of four extra points. Possession of the ball on that drive had been gained when Stevens intercepted a Carter aerial on his own 33.

Joey Herr returned the second half kick-off 70 yards to the Eagle 15 to set up the Highlanders' go-ahead touchdown and a 13-7 lead.

For their third touchdown, the Clansmen marched 74 yards, scoring with only four seconds of the final quarter gone. Shortly, end John Hetherly punted from his 46 to the Eagle 8, where the ball was fumbled and recovered by Larry Bowman in the end zone for the fourth Highlander score.

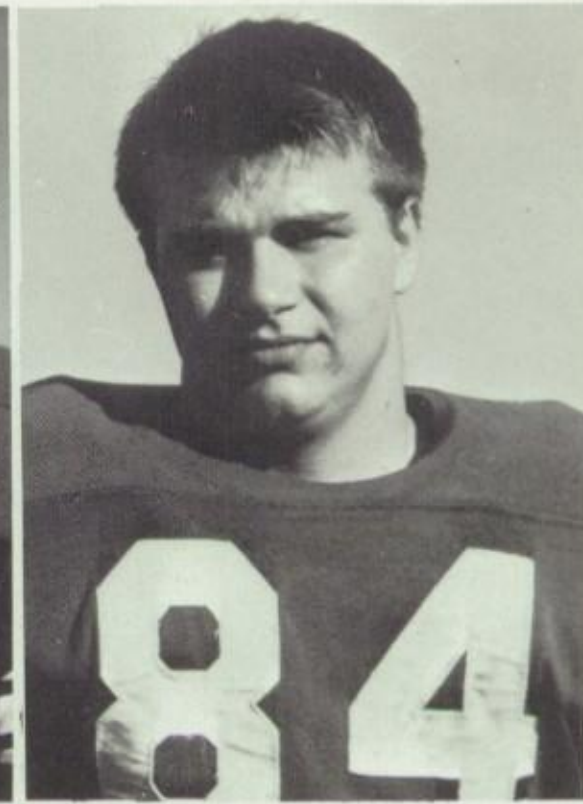

To complete the scoring, Joey Herr took a Carter punt on the 20, broke loose from a host of tacklers, and steamed his way 80 yards to the goal line.

Key holding penalties on punting situations contributed to Poly's upset of Eastern Hills 26-7. Throughout the night, the Parrots controlled the offensive throttles of the Highlanders, allowing only 13 yards rushing.

The only sustained offense the Clansmen could muster occurred late in the game. Tommy Harmon piloted the team from the 40 to the Poly 2, on short passes to John Hetherly and Ronnie Strebeck. From the 2, Harmon scurried into the right corner of the end zone for the TD, and Jimmy Stevens kicked the extra point.

The Parrots struck early in the evening with quarterback Dan Garrett sailing a 32-yard pass to end Joe Wylie for the score. Soon after, full-back Jimmy Aycock made the score 14-0, going over from the 2.

In the second quarter, determined Aycock twisted through right guard from the 2 into the end zone. After a short drive by the Highlanders, halfback Steve Burris took Hetherly's 47-yard punt and sped down the left sidelines for a TD. Poly completed its scoring when Aycock again ran through right guard for 6 points.

Technical Bulldogs, attempting to retrieve the district championship, were commanded to heel by an inspired Highlander football team by a score of 21-14.

The Bulldogs took a commanding 7-0 lead on a 14-yard pass from fullback George Taplin to end Raymond Brown. Tech stretched its lead to 14 points with another TD pass in the second quarter.

Hills lit up its side of the scoreboard with just over two minutes remaining in the first half. After end Mike Fernihough recovered a loose ball, fullback Steve Luebbenhusen carried the pigskin into the end zone from the 2. Jimmy Stevens' extra point sailed straight and true.

Tech fumbled on its second play in the third quarter, giving Hills possession on the Bulldog 35. On fourth down Tommy Harmon found end John Hetherly slanting across the middle to tie the score, 14-14.

Again, Tech fumbled to Fernihough, who recovered at the Bulldog 49. Ten plays later, half-back Les Griffin put the Clansmen ahead to stay with a 2-yard TD plunge.

With a sparkling victory over Arlington Heights, 23-8, combined with North Side's upset of Paschal, Hills was able to claim its first outright district championship. The Highlanders' ground game never looked finer as they rushed for a "whopping" 315 yards.

Fullback Eddie Douglas began the night's excitement with a 74-yard scamper around right end to the 9. On the next play, Tommy Harmon hit Ronnie Strebeck across the middle for the score.

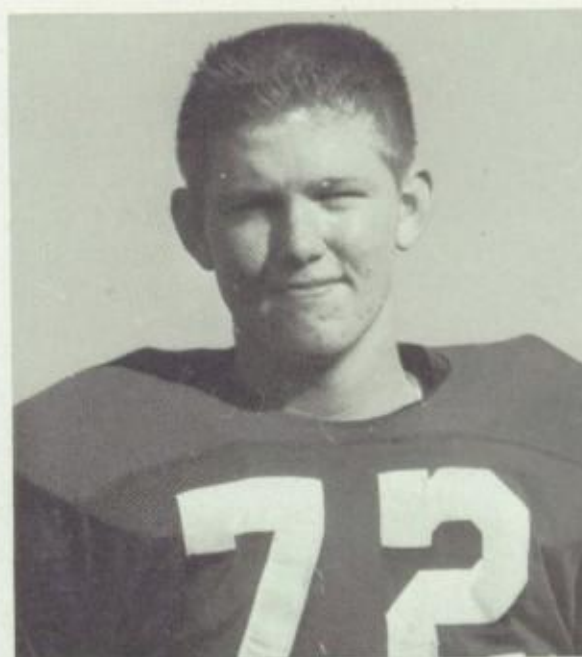

In the second quarter, Artie Erwin pounced on halfback Lee Hitt's fumble of John Hetherly's punt. Soon after, Jimmy Stevens successfully kicked a field goal. Again, Douglas made a long gain, galloping 68 yards for the TD after a fine block by Strebeck.

After intermission the Jackets made it known they hadn't quit as Douglas was stopped in the end zone for a safety. After the punt by Hetherly, Heights marched from its 40 to the 1. From this point, fullback Ronnie Humphries plunged through right guard for 6 points.

The Clansmen's next score came as a result of Harmon's running off right guard and halfback Steve Luebbehusen's 9-yard run around left end for the final tally of the evening.

McCarter, Taylor, Ross Sparkle on Young Team

"B" team football did not prove as successful this year as it has in the past; however, in compiling a 3-7 won-loss record, the young Highlanders were again able to come up with consistent performers. Among those showing promise for next year's defending champion varsity football team are Larry McCarter, guard and linebacker; Tommy Taylor, wingback and safety; and Randy Ross, who played tackle.

Victims of the sophomore team were Haltom, by a score of 28-14; North Side, 28-8; and Carter, 20-0. In the coaches' opinion, "The best game played was in the 7-0 losing effort against Paschal."

Eastern Hills' basketball team battled hard in the '66-67 season, taking second place in the district after being nudged out by Paschal's state semi-finalist team 45-37. The Highlanders did force the Panthers into the playoff by defeating them earlier, 60-52. The basketball team followed the shooting of David Hanebutt to a season of 17 wins and 13 losses and a district tab of 9 victories and 3 defeats.

Hanebutt, an all-district guard, led the offensive with an output of 380 points and a 12.6 average per game. Ricky Hall, forward, and Jay Worley, also all-district guard, held double-figure averages with 349 and 336 points respectively. Playing the other forward spot was Eastern Hills' third member of the all-district team, John Hetherly, and center was Philip Berry.

Height left the team at a disadvantage, with no one above 6 feet 3 inches, but the Highlanders showed their overall ability by holding their own under the boards and maintaining fine shooting from the field.

Track

With a great number of participants in a wide variety of events, the Highlander track team won one meet and placed fifth in the district standings. The team trophy from the Red Dog Relays was the first one taken by Eastern Hills cindermen since the school was in class 3A. The spirit relay, composed of Herbie Herbert, Eddie Alexander, Artie Erwin, and Eddie Douglas, did an outstanding job, being timed in 42.8, good for fourth place in district. Alexander and Douglas claimed fourth and fifth places, respectively, in the 100, and Don Erwin took a sixth in the open quarter. The mile relay quartet of Don Erwin, Artie Erwin, Eddie Douglas, and John Grunow, in taking third place, clocked a 4:25.5, their best time of the year.

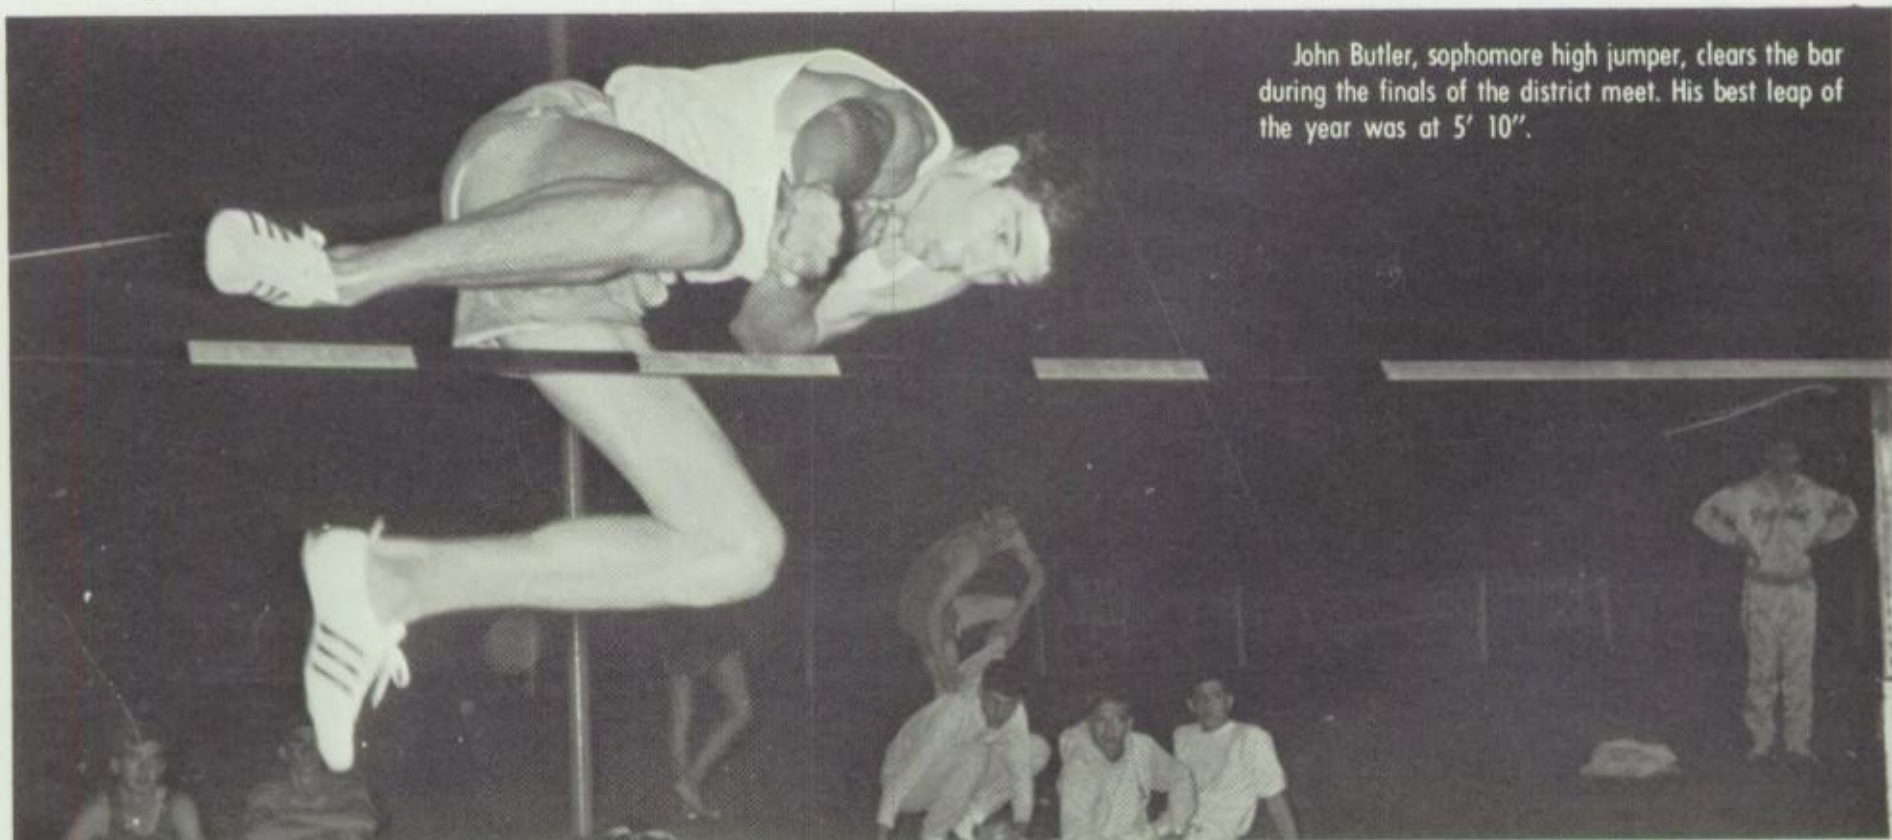

Eddie Douglas ran a swift 49.4 third leg, the second best relay leg ever run at Eastern Hills. Joey Herr performed well in the 330 intermediate hurdles, an event which is new to the district this year. The 220 yard dash also highlighted two individual sprinters, Artie Erwin and John Grunow. Both of these boys ran well and recorded excellent times of 22.5 and 22.6 at the Red Dog Relays.

John Butler, sophomore high jumper, clears the bar during the finals of the district meet. His best leap of the year was at 5' 10".

Running in the 100 yard dash were Eddie Douglas, Eddie Alexander, and John Grunow. All three broke the old school record of 10.1 at the Red Dog Relays, with Grunow running a 10.0; Alexander, 9.7; and Douglas, 9.6.

Mile, Sprint Relays Capture Trophies

Leading the Eastern Hills 440 yard dash men was Don Erwin, who consistently qualified in this event. His best time of 50.8 is the second best quarter time run at EHHS.

The five quartermilers who competed in the mile relay throughout the track season were Don Erwin, Artie Erwin, John Grunow, Eddie Douglas, and Herbie Herbert. The mile relay placed third in the district meet with a time of 4:45.

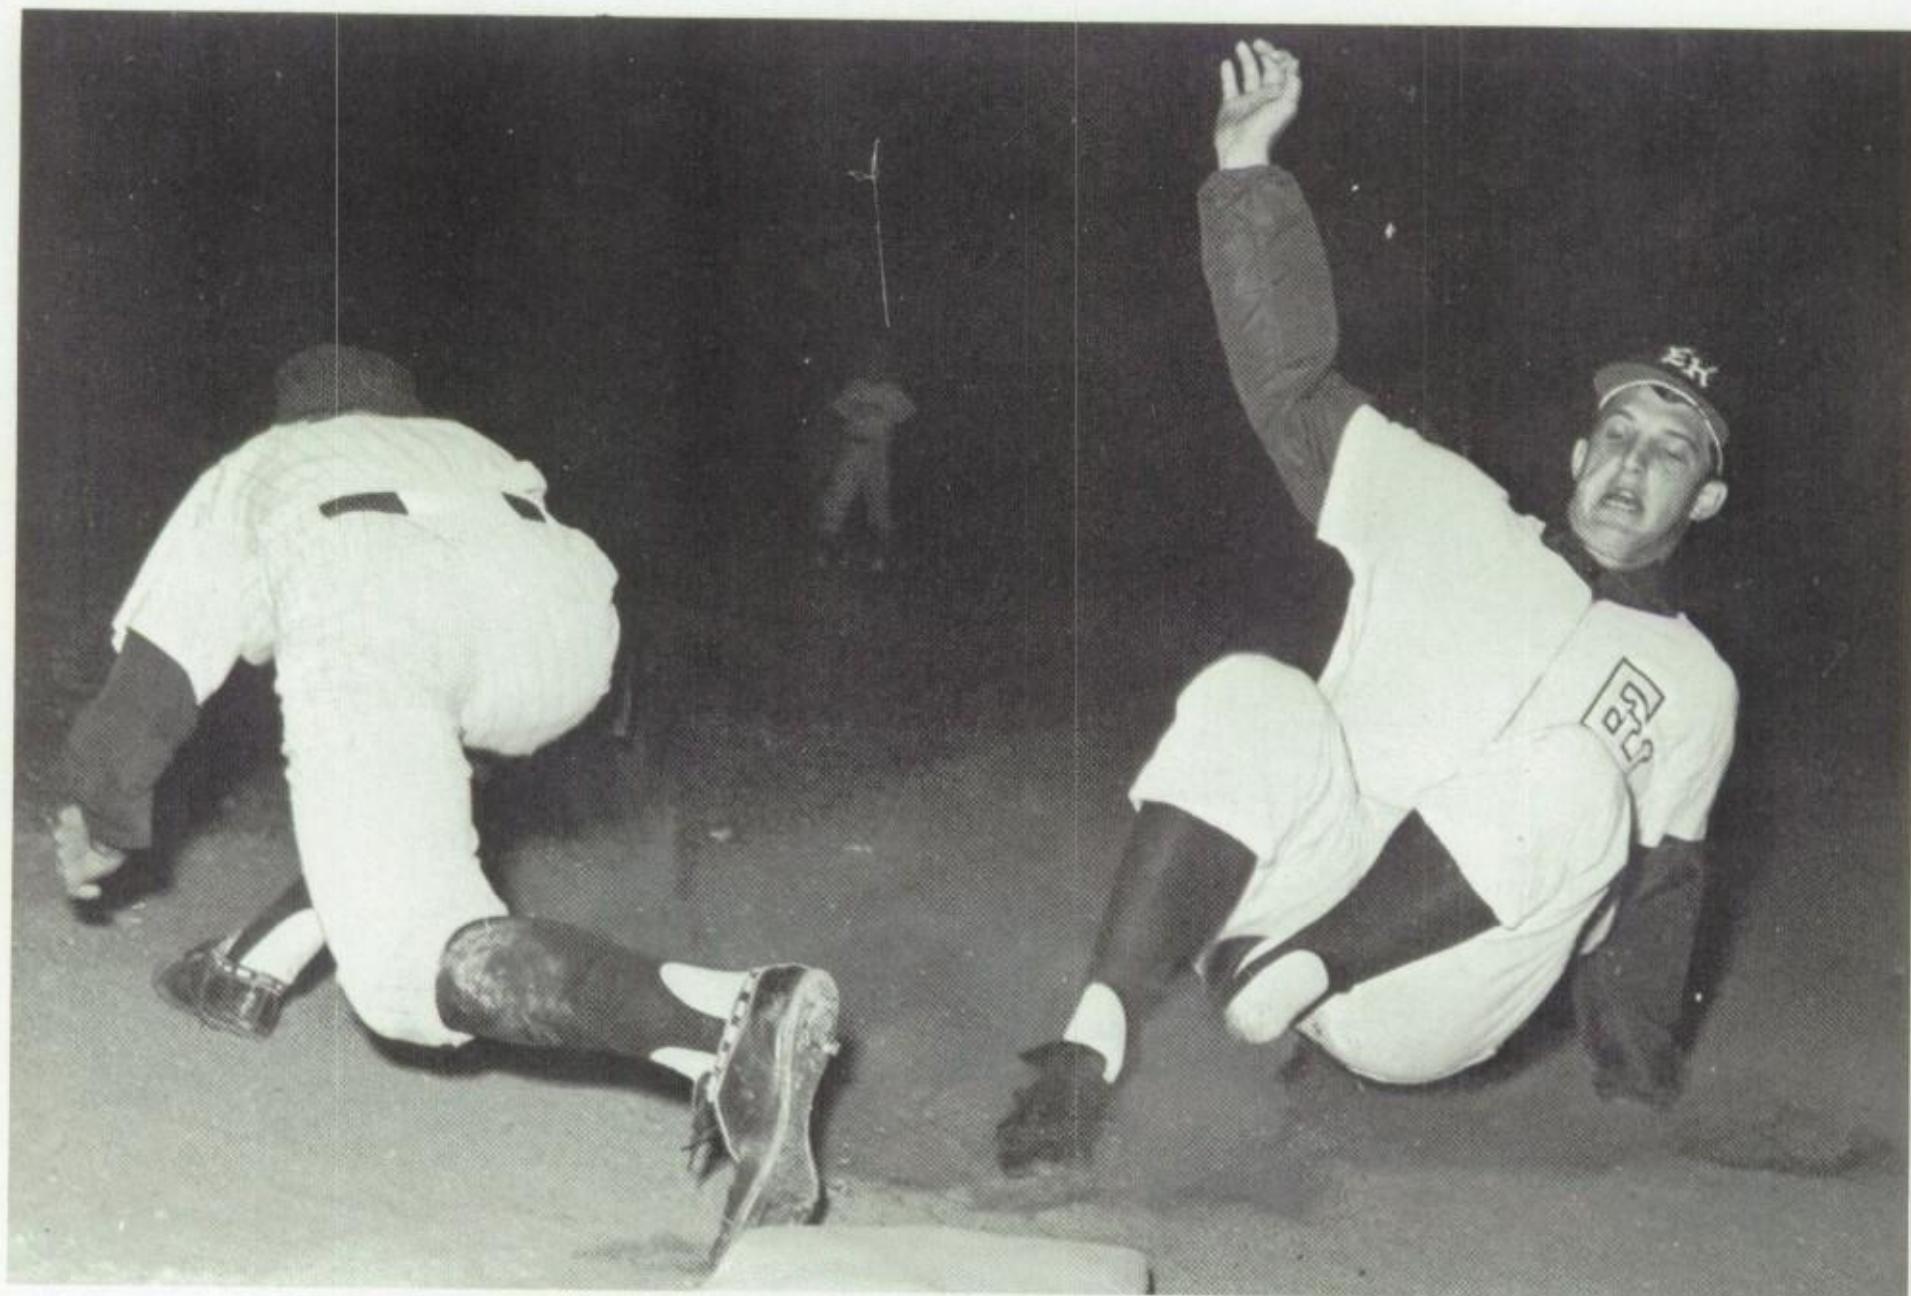

Eddie Alexander strains in vain to reach the tape ahead of his competition from Poly and Paschal. Eddie finished third in his heat of the preliminary 220 yard dash.

Heartbreaking is the only word to describe the Highlanders' last ditch bid for state honors. After defeating Dallas Kimball twice in a row, Eastern Hills, baseball team advanced from bi-district play to regional action. The opponent was John Tyler.

Mental mistakes created the downfall for the first game for the Scots. A trip to Tyler for a possible doubleheader was next on the agenda. For six and a half innings the Clan held their hosts to no runs, while the Highlanders had erected two runs on the scoreboard from a homer by Tommy Harmon and a Texas league single from Jack Graham.

The bottom half of the seventh inning approached and the seemingly impossible happened. Tyler exploded for three runs off pitcher Terry Newton and the game was finished. Thus concluded the most successful season for a Highlander baseball team ever. During the season the Scotsmen compiled a 26-5 slate. Six Highlanders were chosen for the district dream team: Tommy Harmon, Jack Graham, Frank Barnes, Eddie Douglas, Terry Newton, and Sam Phillips. One reason for the Team's success was superior pitching from Phillips and Newton, who were both 12-2 for the season. In district play, Douglas was the top Highlander hitter with a .375 average while Graham had a .371 average. The overall team average was .315.

Granges

Organizations have always played an important role in the development of both people and areas. The YMCA and YWCA guide the lives of young men and women throughout the nation, just as various Chambers of Commerce do everything possible to project the images of their respective cities. Such was also the case in the late 1800's. One of the first organizations of bygone days was the Grange, which was founded in 1867 by Oliver Kelley to give farmers a chance to learn advanced farming methods. Since the Civil War, the Grange has grown to represent the interests of farmers nationally. Officially called the Patrons of Husbandry, the fraternal order has about 8000 local groups in forty states. Pictured is a scene from the 1911 Stock Show.

"Money, money, money," is the cry from Lynette Smith and Carolyn Trojan as they count the cash from the annual sales. Lynette, copy editor, and Carolyn, business manager, worked together on the senior section of the annual. Lynette, who is the third member of her family to be on the staff, was also responsible for finding information about early Fort Worth and its activities for the division pages.

For the first time there were co-editors of the annual, John Grunow and David Worley. They were also the first boys to hold the highest position on the staff. Both seniors, they worked on the staff last year on the sports section.

This year they again organized and supervised the sports section, as well as checked pages, set up deadlines, and even printed pictures.

Bobby Gordon, junior, and David Banks, senior, work together as photographers for the annual. This is David's third year as a photographer.

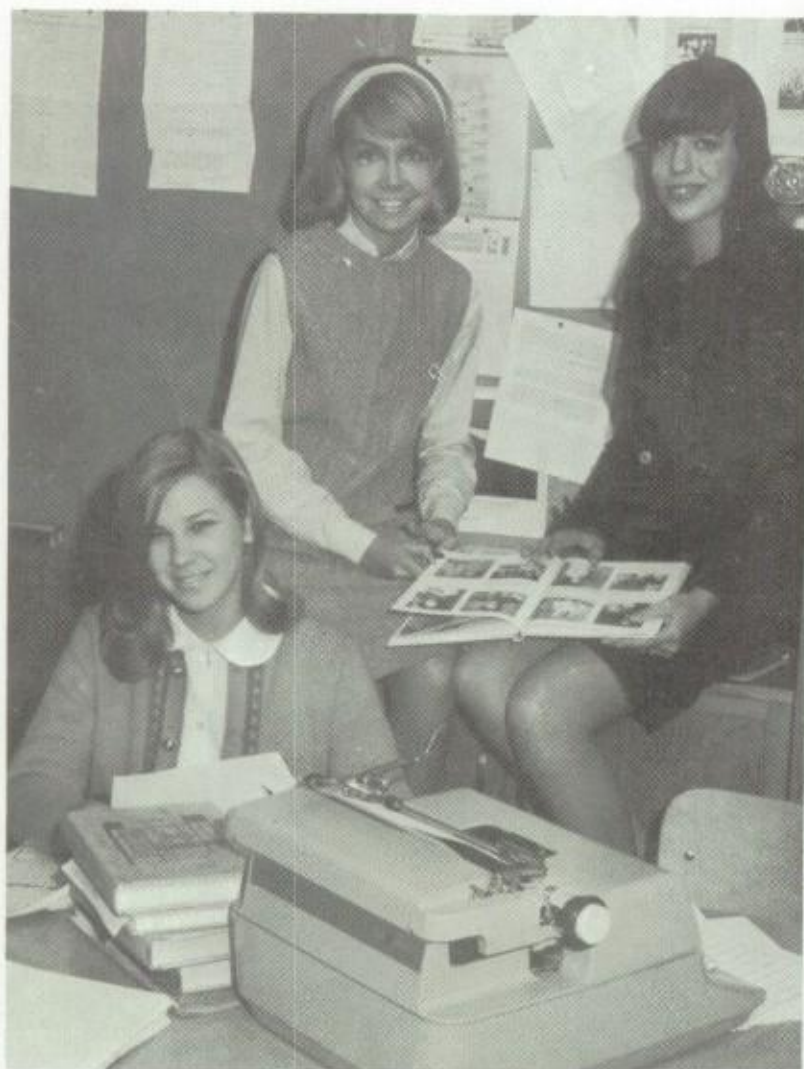

This is one of the many machines that the annual members saw when they went to inspect the new Taylor Publishing Company at Dallas. This particular machine is a four-color press.

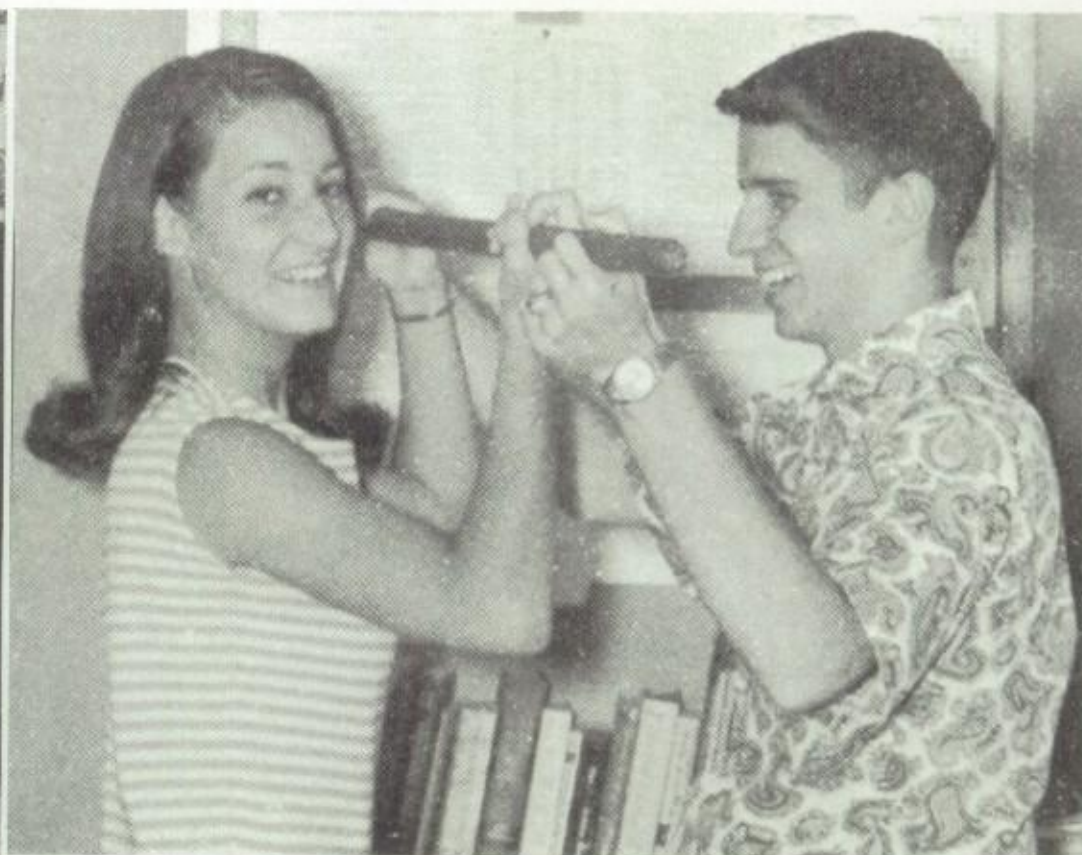

Being on the annual staff is a new honor for senior Donna Scudday and junior Peggy Priddy. Donna is in charge of the section on organizations. The personality section is edited by Peggy.

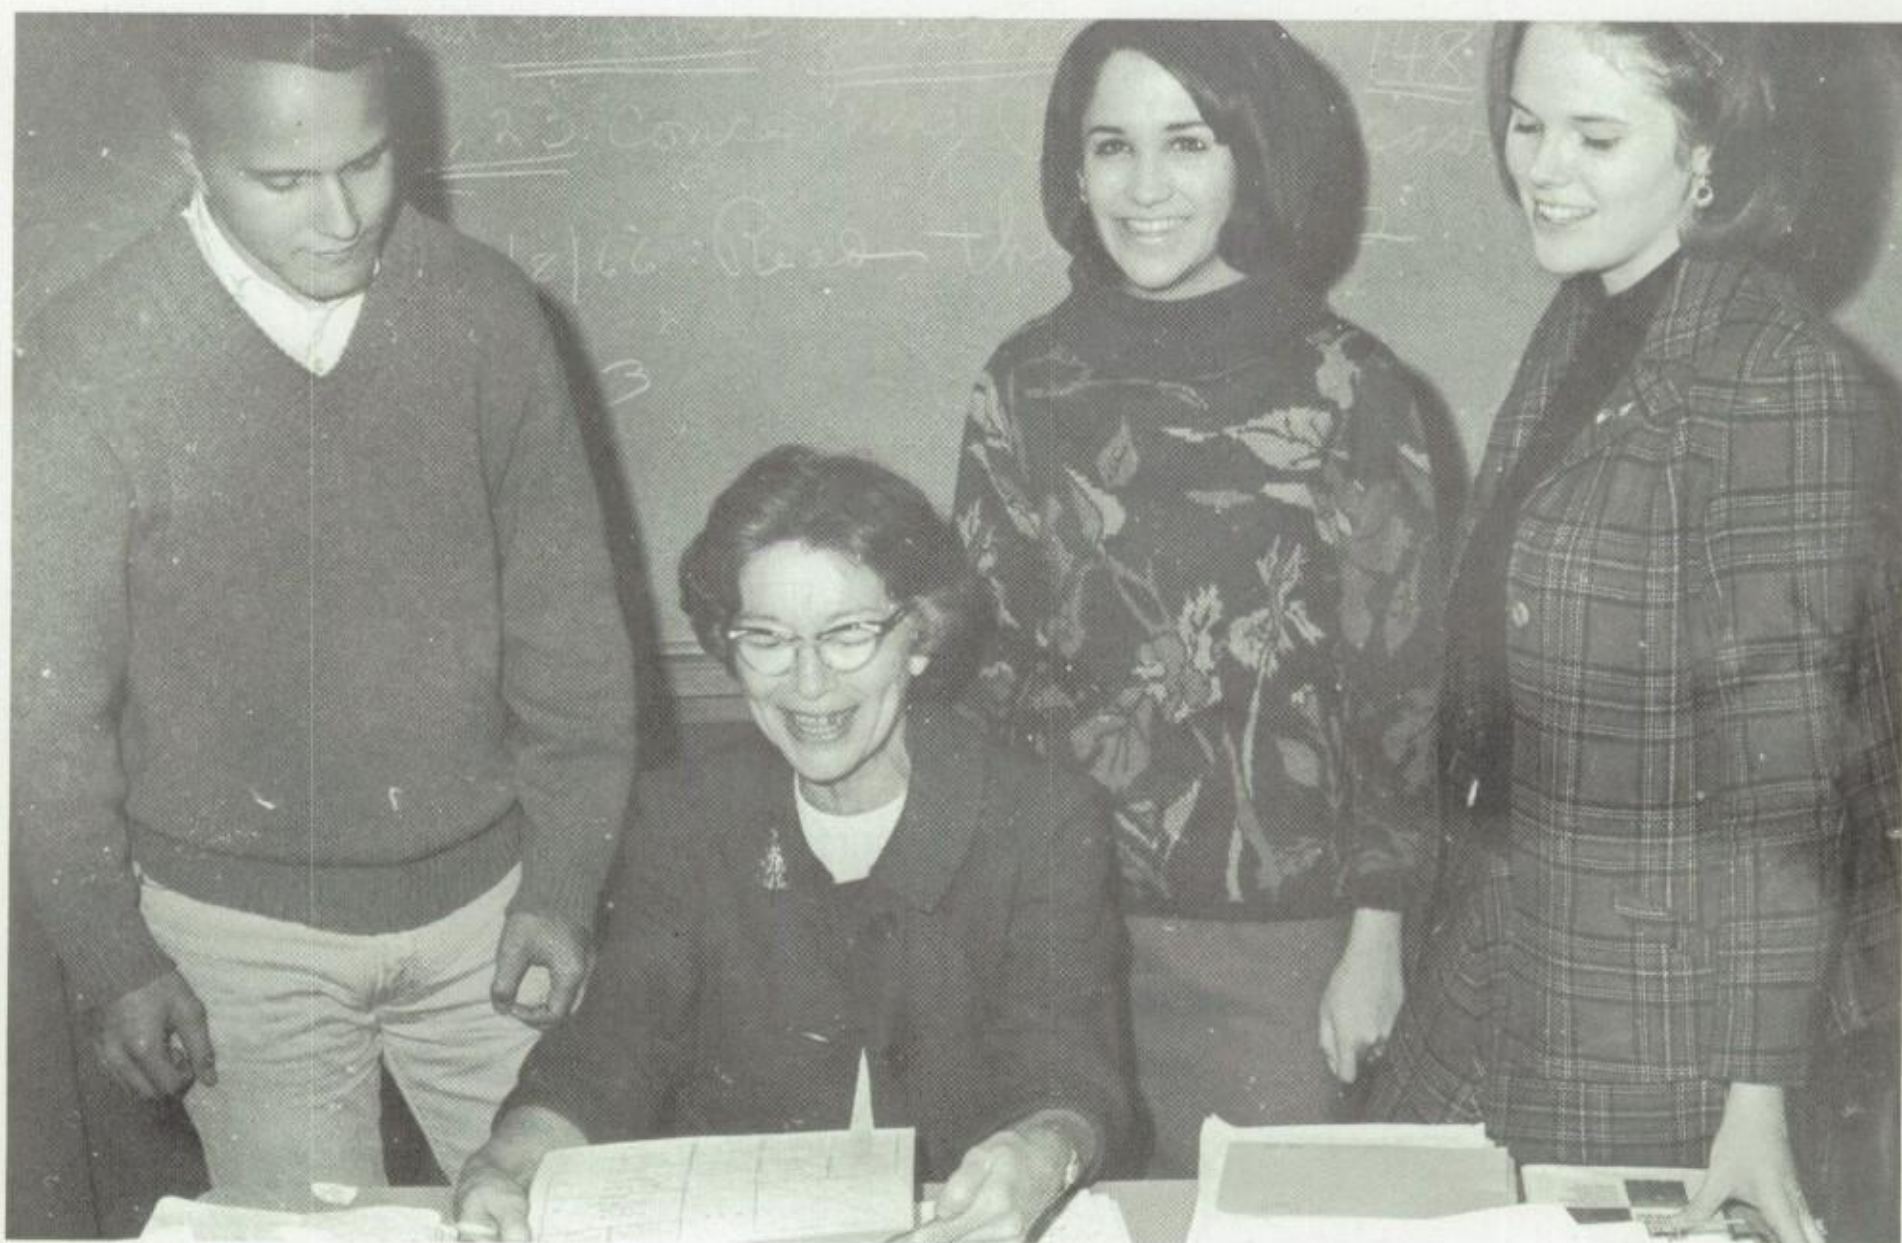

Lynda Sherrill, junior class editor, and Christine Melanson, sophomore class editor, are discussing new ideas that could make the class sections more interesting.

Highlander sports editor, Lory Peterson, attempts to show reporter Rickee Richardson the finer points of chin-ups. Staff positions on the Tartan are filled by students enrolled in journalism, which is offered only to senior students.

Tartan Captures Five Awards

As David Worley, news editor, pecks away on the typewriter, Nancy Cottingham, feature editor; Carolyn Trojan, managing editor; and David Banks, editor, rumage through newspaper copy.

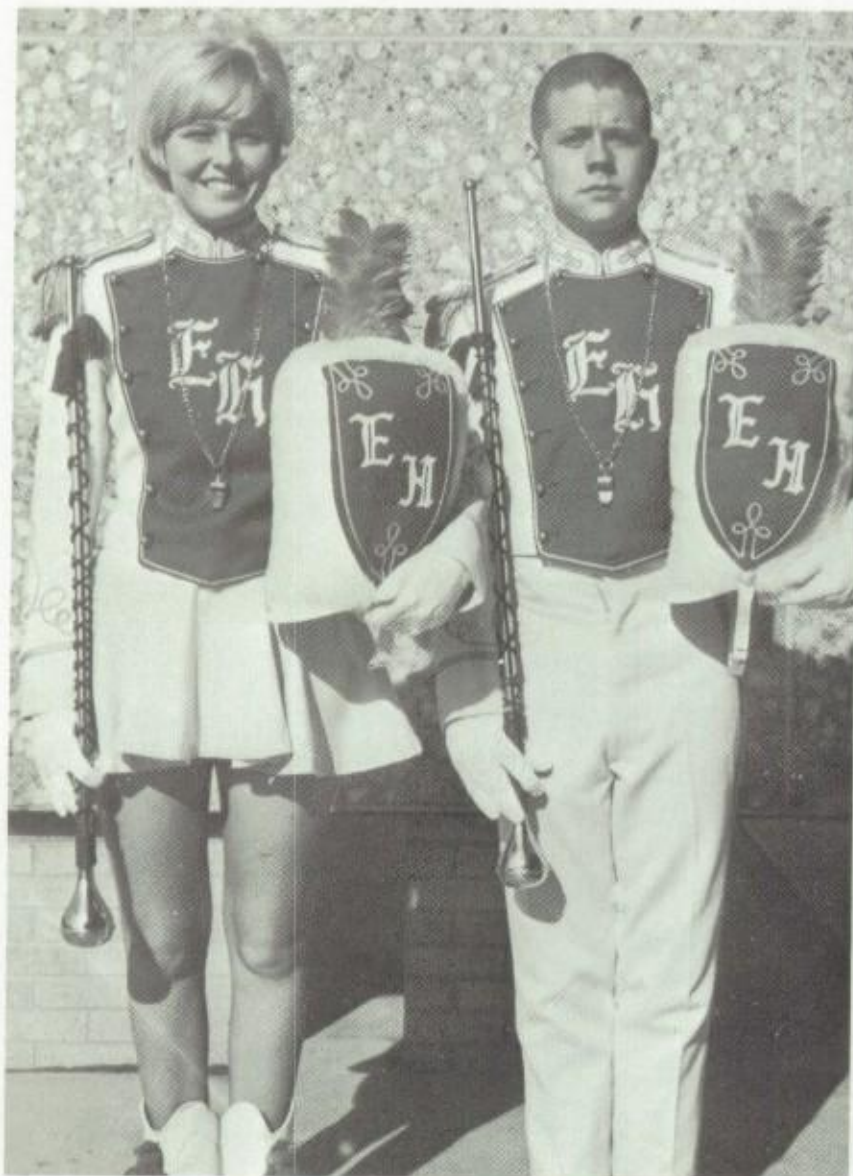

In the Fort Worth Press contest, Tartan staff members placed in five categories. The front page layout of the Tartan placed third in the city contest.

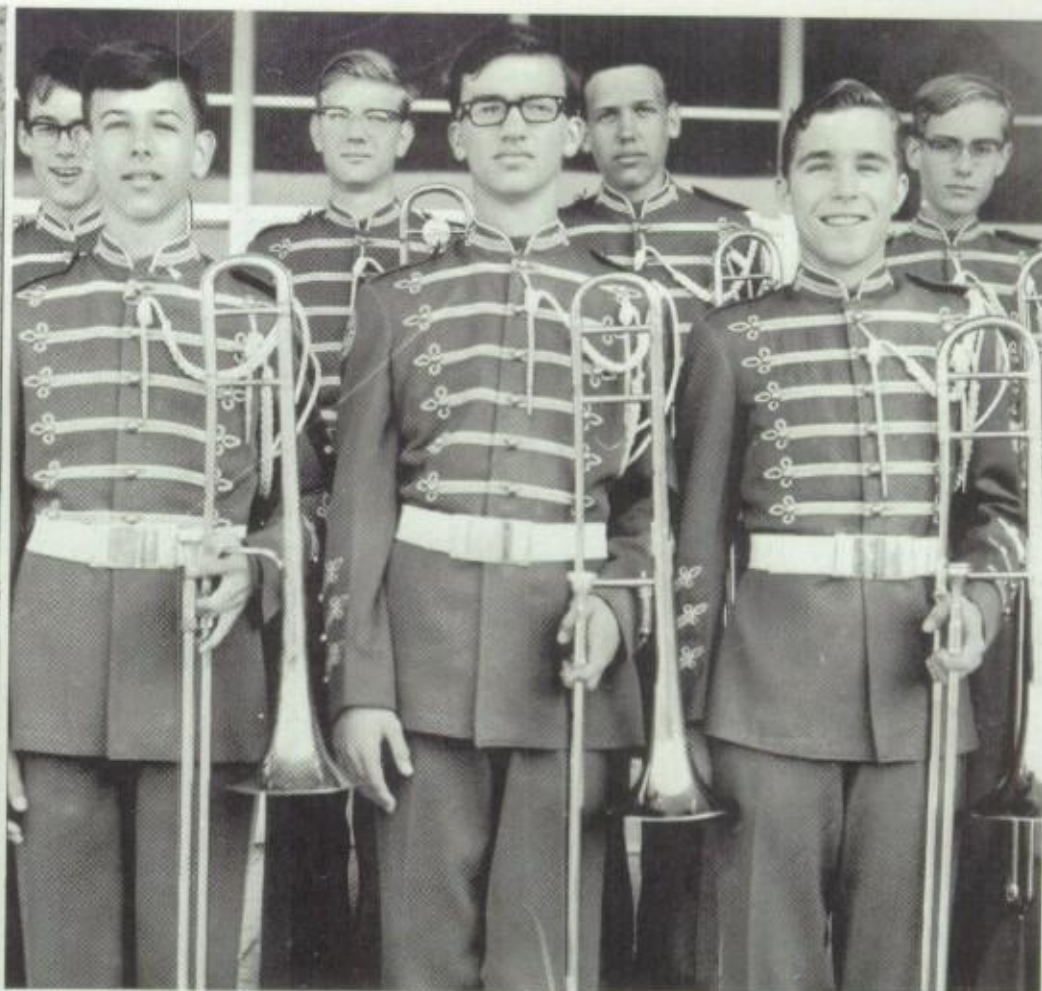

Jan Price, reporter, discusses the rising cost of producing a newspaper with the exasperated business manager, Susan Follin. Cindy Whermann, ad manager, chuckles at the unusual ad arrangement of NROCA EHT.

Happiness is being on the Tartan staff grins Sarah Kendall, Cindy Johnson, and Stephanie Reed.

Pam MacDowell and Bill Braddy are drum majors for the Highlander band for their second year.

At the Castleberry Band Festival held in April the band won first divisions in both concert playing and sight reading.

Among other honors received was an invitation to march in the 1968 Cotton Bowl parade.

er, Linda Rusk, Robin Hough, Tessie Houghton, and Patti Braker, second row; Mary Dines, Nancy Cottingham, Mike Appleby, Davie Worley, Bill Stephens, Terry Mealer, and Gordon Kelly, third row.

Serving as pianist for the Eastern Hills Select Choir is Dean Crocker, senior.

Awards were given to Dean Crocker, Linda Anderson, Nancy Cottingham, Patti Braker, Mary Dines, Melinda Slone, Donna Scudday, Bill Stephens, and David Worley.

Car Wash Yields $100 for Corps

Marvin Ivy, Greg Atwell, and Wally Peterson use a little elbow grease at the fall ROTC car wash which was held at a local service station. It profited over $100 for the ROTC.

Stephanie Reed demonstrates her skill at polishing car fenders at the annual ROTC car wash.

Lyn Vann and T. H. Haltom were in charge of A Company. Others in the company under their charge were Render Heard, Russell Melton, Greg Atwell, Roger Ross, John Rowland, Bill Fuller, Sonny Morton, Stanley Arnold, Woodrow Stansell, Wayne Crites, Larry Armstrong, and Don Beck.

Sponsors of the ROTC this year were Lacrescia Kilgore, athletic sponsor; Lynn Vann, A company; Melinda Hollingsworth, rifle team; Mary Beth Meissner, rifle team, Gayle Gorsich, B company; Sally Herring, drum and bugle corps; Barbara Boyd, C company, Stephanie Reed, battalion commander; and Sandy Sandlin, drill team. Miss Sue Sherf-ese was the faculty sponsor of the group.

Mike Haley led B company this past year. Those under his command were Dan Young, David Mercer, David Dyche, Donald Jeanes, Ronald Gibson, Marvin Ivy, William Armstrong, and Ramsey Greenway.

The ROTC staff was composed of Stephanie Reed and Tim Vann, first row; Bill Vance, B. C. Payne, Dalton Thomas, Randall Warren, Jere Fletcher, and Tommy Herrin.

Besides the car wash, other fund raising activities included two turkey shoots for both students and faculty, a bake sale, and a rummage sale.

Social functions included a Christmas dance, a picnic, and a corps trip to San Antonio.

French Dress Prevails at Initiation

Diana Lewis, Janie Lucariello, Toni Christy, and Craig Dearden join other club members in singing carols in French during the Christmas season.

Becky Michael dressed in a typical artist's costume for the initiation party. Among other activities of the French Club were a student convention at SMU, a bicycle picnic, and a French dinner.

Cindy Morrow, Heather Oren, and Donna Davis did the can-can as part of their initiation.

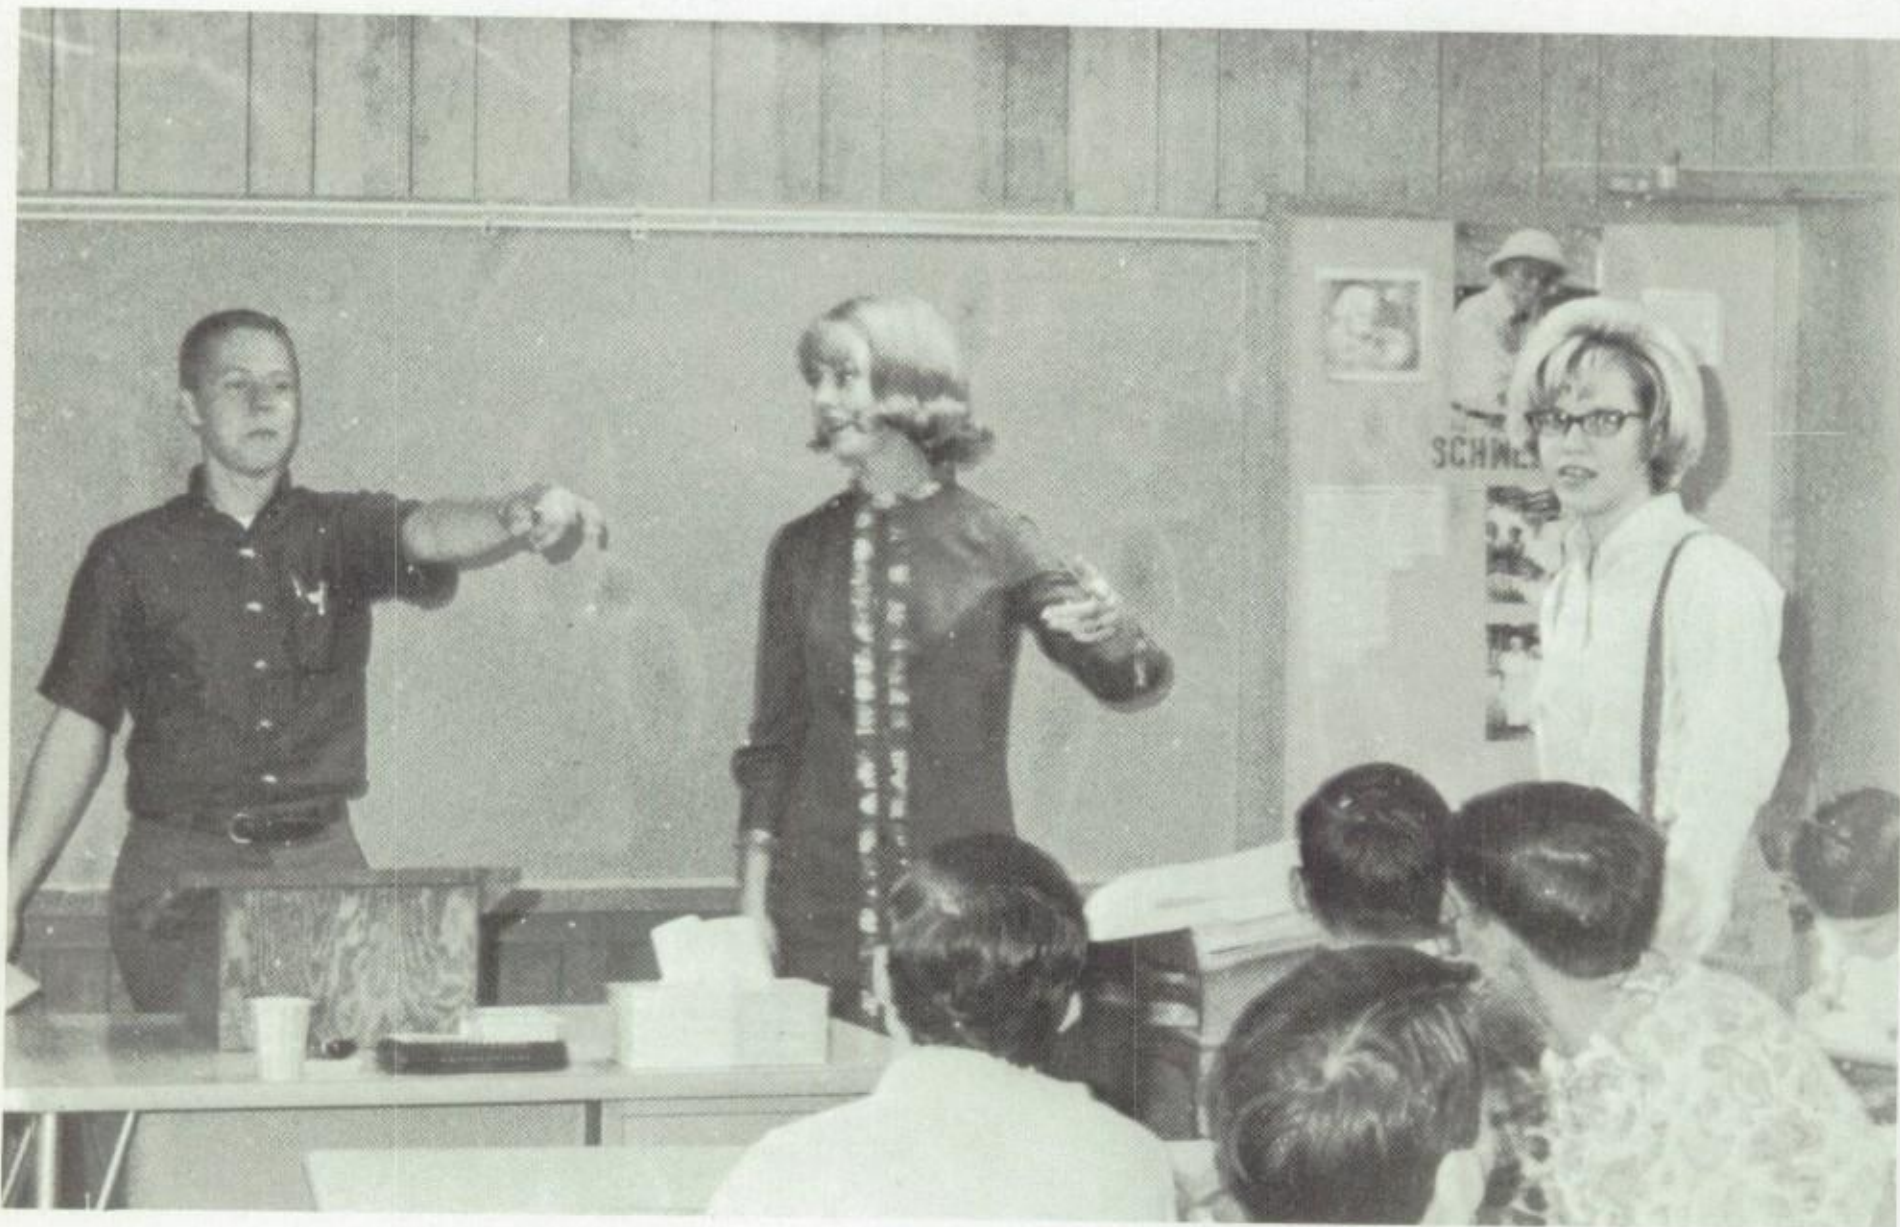

Officers of Toujours Français include Cindy Wehrmann, president; Karen Nelson and Mary Beth Meissner, vice-presidents; Ann Dominy, secretary-treasurer.

JCL Shuns Etiquette, Dines in Style

"Now, open wide," coaxes Jeanette Turner as she carries out the punishment of her slave, Judy Albertson, while Mary Jentz stares in amazement.

Auctioneer Bill Braddy and Robin Hough point menacingly at the new owner of a wonderful slave, Judy Albertson. The price paid for Judy's services was ten shekels of silver, three chickens, and one wild boar.

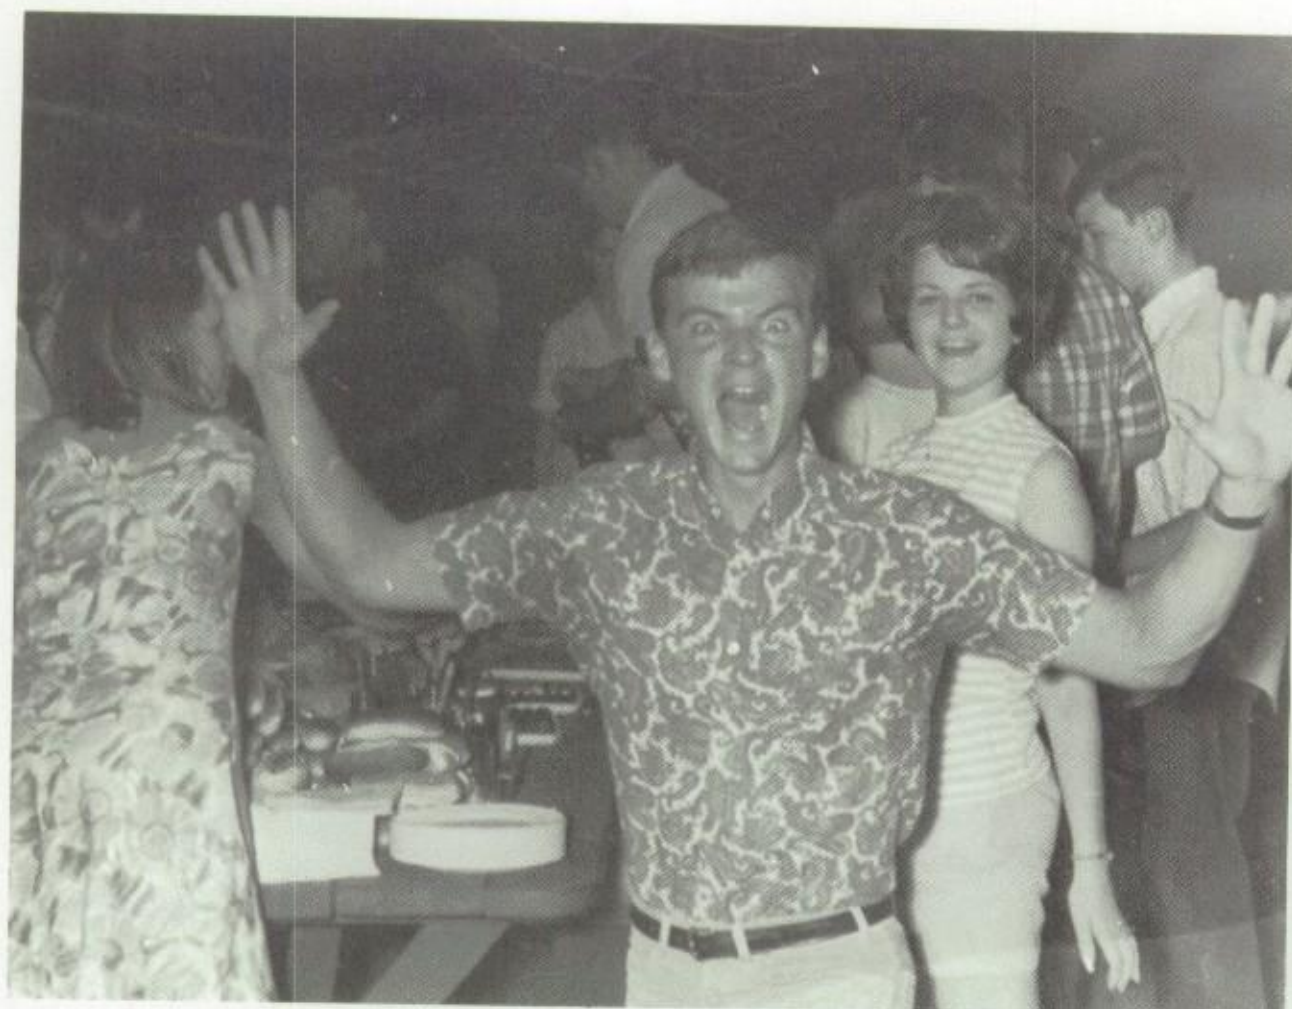

Issuing a proclamation from a scroll of Latin derivatives is Junior Classical League president Zana Underwood. Other officers are Emma Smith, vice-president; Charles Luke, secretary; Susan Follin, historian; Mrs. Cox, sponsor; and Robert Luke, treasurer.

Donna Hamilton grins devilishly as she stacks mythological Cyclop eyes on the plates of brave Latin students in attendance at the JCL banquet.

Mark Anderson exhibits his exuberance at the Pan Am picnic as Jerri Mason looks on in sympathy.

Jay Worley, who has speared three dogs on a hanger, burns his fingers and steps on his toes while he tries to roast them.

Pan Am members show what swingers they are by joining in on planned activities at the picnic.

Three Units Make Up Pan Am Club

"Is this how they do it in Mexico?" asks Shirley Patterson during the Pan Am banquet.

Pan Am Club members enjoy many different activities. These include charity projects, parties, and anything that will help members to understand and appreciate the customs and habits of the Spanish people. There are three units of the club in Eastern Hills, according to the number of years of Spanish studied. The third unit consists of third and fourth year students, some of whom have had as many years of Spanish as English in high school study.

Kathy Goldring performs a flamenco dance for members.

Officers of the Pan Am Club are, left to right, Margie Tripp, treasurer; Nancy Brown, president; Cathey Himes, program chairman; Paula Reeves, secretary; and Kathy Gold-ring, reporter.

Bicycle Trip, Party Highlight Year

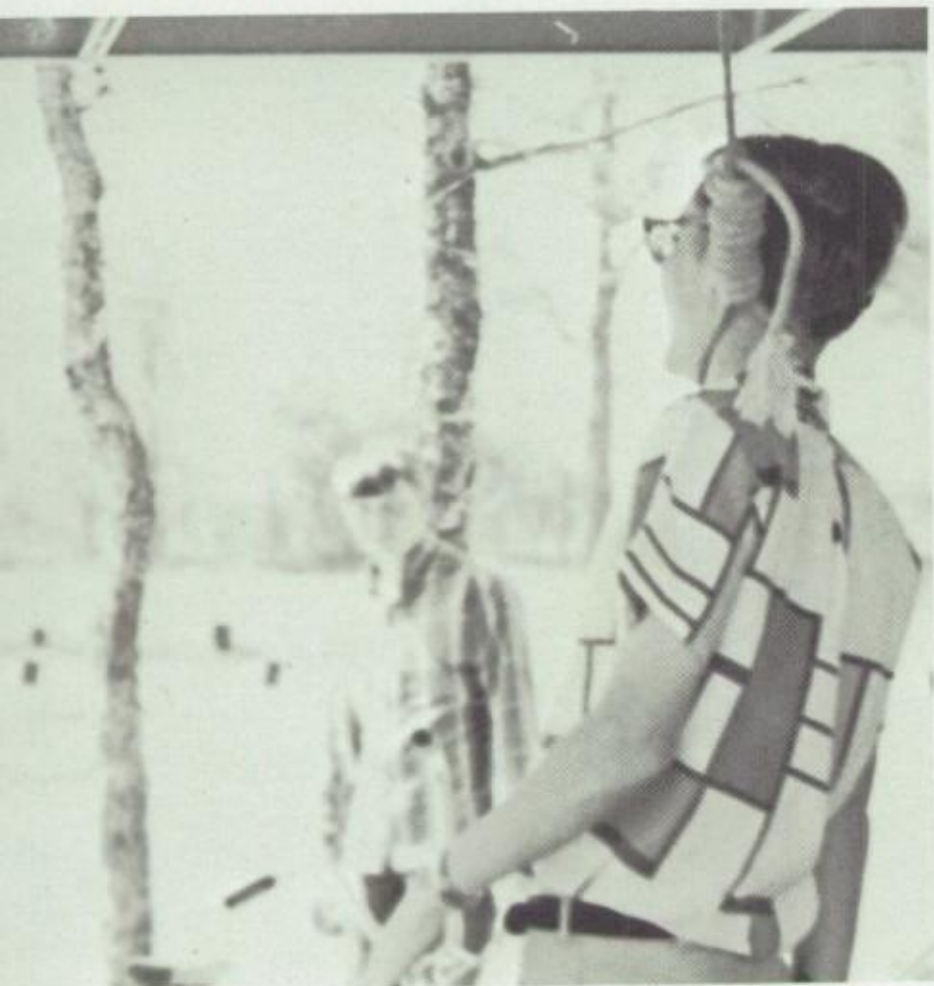

"We're off to see the Wizard . . ." happily sing Lynette Smith and Marion Chelf while following the "yellow brick road" up a hill.

Mike Privitt, posing as a little old lady, is driven away by Santa Claus, Jeter Fulbright. The two provided entertainment for German Club members at the Christmas party.

Jimmy Gregory, finding cycling rather conventional, proposes to test a new method, upside down, on the German Club bicycle hike.

Dean Crocker, president of the German Club, chuckles while he gives the rope a tug. His victim, Don Levy, seems to be choked up over the unfair proceedings.

Pat Carter, Jerri Mason, and Ann Dominy show off Easter baskets made by the members of Y-Teens. Making and distributing the baskets to hospitals and children's homes was one of Y-Teens' spring projects.

Teddy Kitchens helps Paula Reeves, publicity chairman, use her initiative and artistic talent to make posters for the halls. Making signs for the pep rallies in the auditorium was also Paula's responsibility.

Hills' Y-Teens Rated Best in City

Debbie Davis, Sherry Keeton, and Donna Weimann display the club-of-the-year trophy won by this year's Y-Teens. This is the eighth year for the Highlanders to win the trophy.

Debbie Thompson tapes a sign on a track team member's locker to heighten school spirit and show the boys the student body is behind them.

One of the important parts of the Drama Club is the opportunity for students to talk to people involved in various phases of drama. Barbara George and Randy Cole enjoy listening to Miss Donna Rankin, Handley Junior High dramatics teacher and guest speaker for one of the club's monthly meetings.

Troylites Host Drama Teacher

Cindy Wehrmann gets into character for her performance in Roman costume for fellow-members of the Drama Club.

Refreshments are as much a part of a club meeting as the program itself. Billy Martin assists Nancy Dennis as she prepares to serve refreshments after the business of the meeting.

Press Club Helps Tartan Staff

Press Club officers demonstrate wrist action developed by "throwing" papers to the homerooms. The officers are, left to right, Debbie Thompson, Donna Scudday, Lynda Sherrill, president, and Marcia Reed. In addition to helping Tartan staffers to deliver the newspapers, club members enjoyed meetings of the Fort Worth High School Press Association.

Pi Kappa Alpha, alias Becky Michael, discovers that an eager ugly duckling is munching on her toenails.

Debbie Thompson leads her dwarf workers to the diamond mines across a narrow pipe in Oakland Park at the Press Club picnic.

Jan Price takes careful aim and hopes for the best as she tries her luck at Bowling Club meeting.

Bill Johnston demonstrates perfect form in following through after a dynamic throw down the alley.

Pinsmen Take Aim at Records

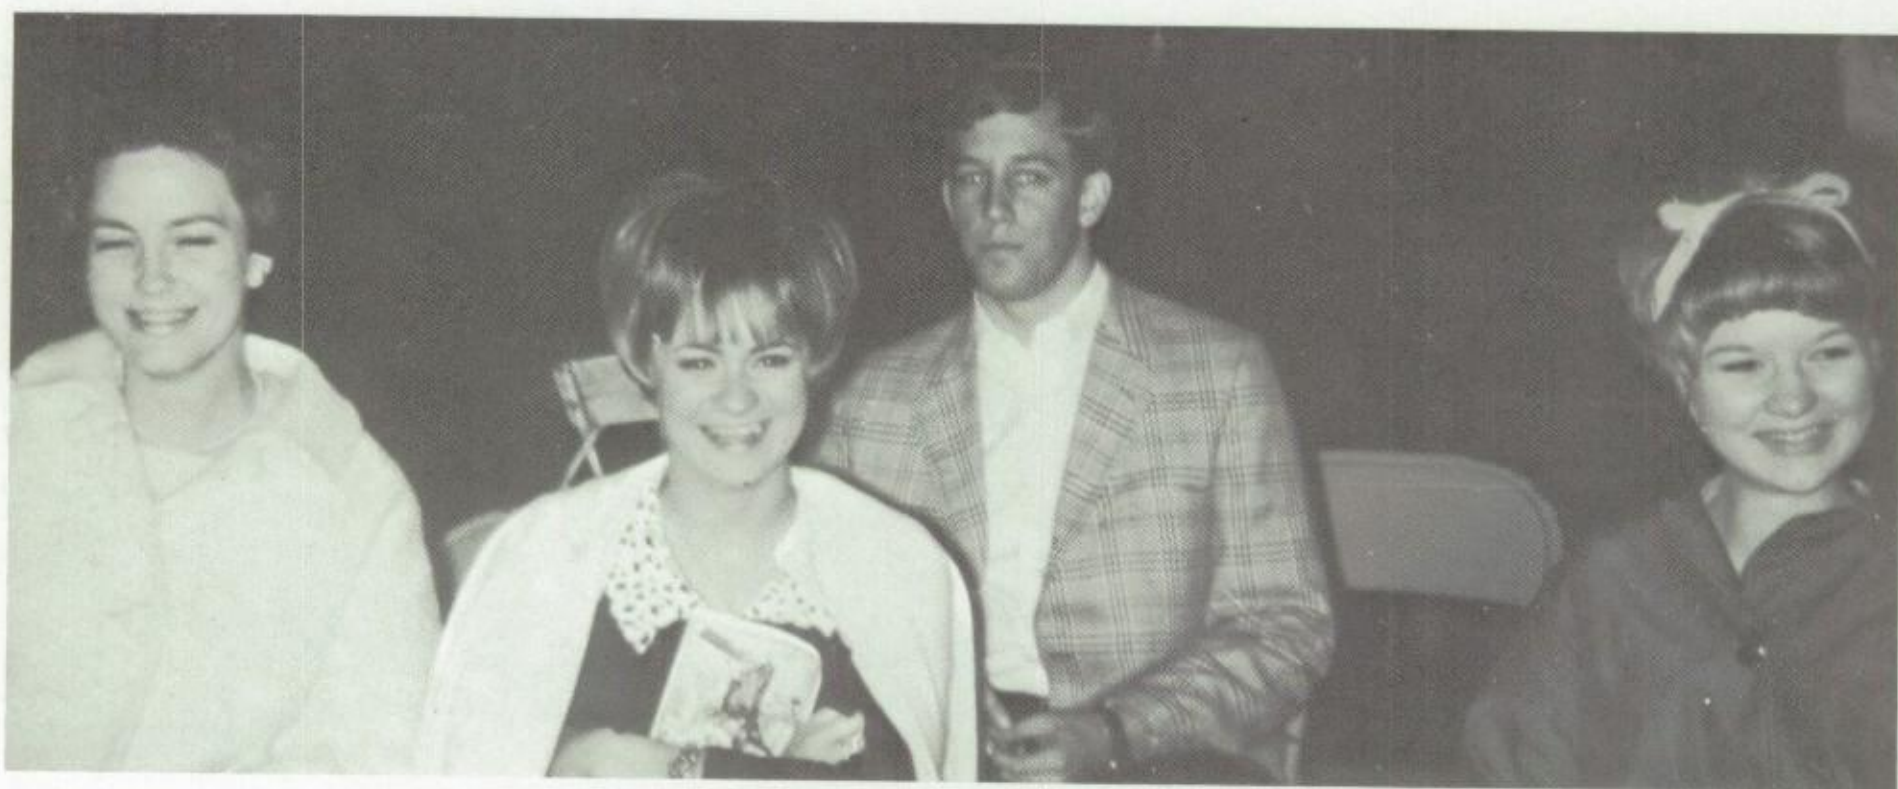

Heading the Bowling Club for 1966-67 were Charles Grimmitt, vice-president; Debbie Wright, secretary; and Mike Jarrett, president. Members bowl weekly at a local bowling alley. The club is sponsored by Mr. Mitchell.

Paula Bledsoe, Stuart Stovall, Dwight Smith, Barry Whitfill, Christine Melanson, Chuck Bettinger, Charles Smith, Kent Harrington, Paula Reeves, Dwight Mitchell, Barry Johnson, and Andy Dyer, all members of the Eastern Hills caravan to the FTA state convention at San Antonio, grin mischievously before storming the Alamo.

FTA Takes "Old San Antonio Road"

FTA sponsor, Miss Swain, and future teachers Debbie Thompson, Charles Smith, and Paula Reeves observe the proceedings of the state convention held at San Antonio.

Three Attend State FNA Conclave

Future Nurses officers are Mary Willess, president; Connie Foster, chaplain; Pam White, vice-president; and Betty Carrell, secretary-treasurer. In addition to regular monthly meetings, the club had a candy sale, a Christmas party, and a swimming party. Members took refreshments to the Huffman School for Mentally Retarded and sent three delegates to the state convention in Austin.

Pam White, back to camera, Barbara Kelley, Cindy Thornburg, Connie Foster, and other club members enjoyed a meal at Mrs. Young's during the Christmas season.

Seasonal Topic Provided by Council

Teddy Kitchens, president of the safety council, discusses the possibility of a monsoon season in Texas with Howard McNeil, WBAP TV's leading weatherman. Mr. McNeil's presentation to the student body centered around storms that are prevalent in the North Texas area. He gave suggestions for "weathering" these storms according to certain safety precautions.

Harrington — TCYC President

Officers of Eastern Hills chapter of the National Red Cross were Gail Hauelsen, Kent Harrington, Joy Grimes, and Karen McCulley. The Red Cross members attended a National Red Cross Rally in Dallas. Kent was elected the Tarrant County youth chapter president. Karen was president of the Eastern Hills chapter of the Red Cross.

Debbie Thompson takes time out to feed the ducks at Oakland Park but goes off the deep end in the process. Despite the wet water and oozing mud, Debbie emerged from the watery depths unscathed as part of the fun at the club's annual picnic.

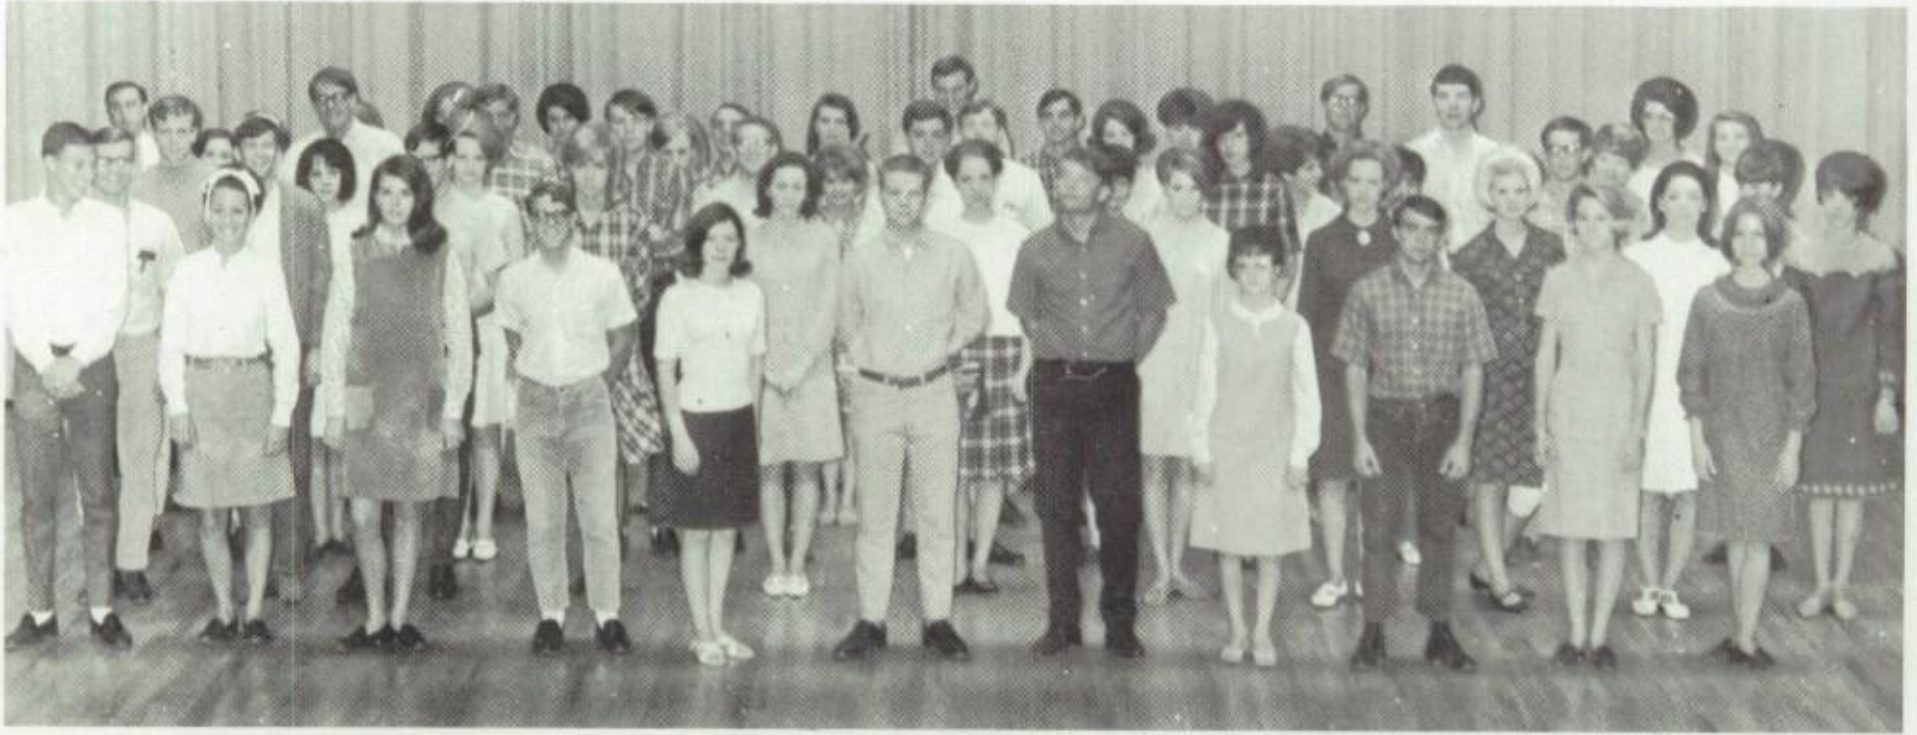

Picnic Ends Council Year

At the Student Council picnic, Steve Wellborn practices bailing out techniques on a small scale before aspiring to higher things more than five feet off the ground.

Student Council sponsors and officers for '66-'67 were Mr. Leon Mitchell, sponsor; Nancy Brown, vice-president; Barry Wilmoth, president; John Grunow, secretary-treasurer; and Mr. Waylon Kirk, sponsor.

Honor Society Continues to Expand

A large number of sophomores were added to the membership of the Honor Society during the '66-'67 academic school year.

"A toast to art," laughs Susan Goodwin, much to the surprise of Barbara Stansberry and Bill Fegan, who were among art club members attending a party at the Italian Inn. Club members attended Picasso's exhibit and sponsored a student exhibit at the school.

Artists Attend Picasso Exhibit

Paula Reeves is amused by pictures from Coach Mitcham's old Poly High School annual. Mitchem sponsors the club.

Officers for the Art Club are Paula Reeves, vice-president; Suzanne Speegle; treasurer; Karen Cox, secretary; and Sherry Keeton, president.

Card-shark Pat Nelson exhibits her card prowess to the amazement of a bewildered Mikel Oswald. The bridge club met twice a month on Wednesday nights at different members' houses.

Donnie Reeder Tops in Bridge

Roger Ross gives puzzled Karen McCulley a few helpful hints. The look on her face is indicative of the frustration shown by many bridge players. To the brilliant mind this card game is a combination of wit and concentration in addition to cokes and cookies found in every bridge meeting. To a beginner it poses the problem of mass confusion and total annihilation.

Donnie Reeder, treasurer; Ricky Price, president; and Ray Rhodes, social chairman, contemplate the making of pairs in their Old Maid game. The Bridge Club officers oc-asionally take delight in passing the time with a card game more complicated than bridge.

Bible Club Makes Coloring Boxes

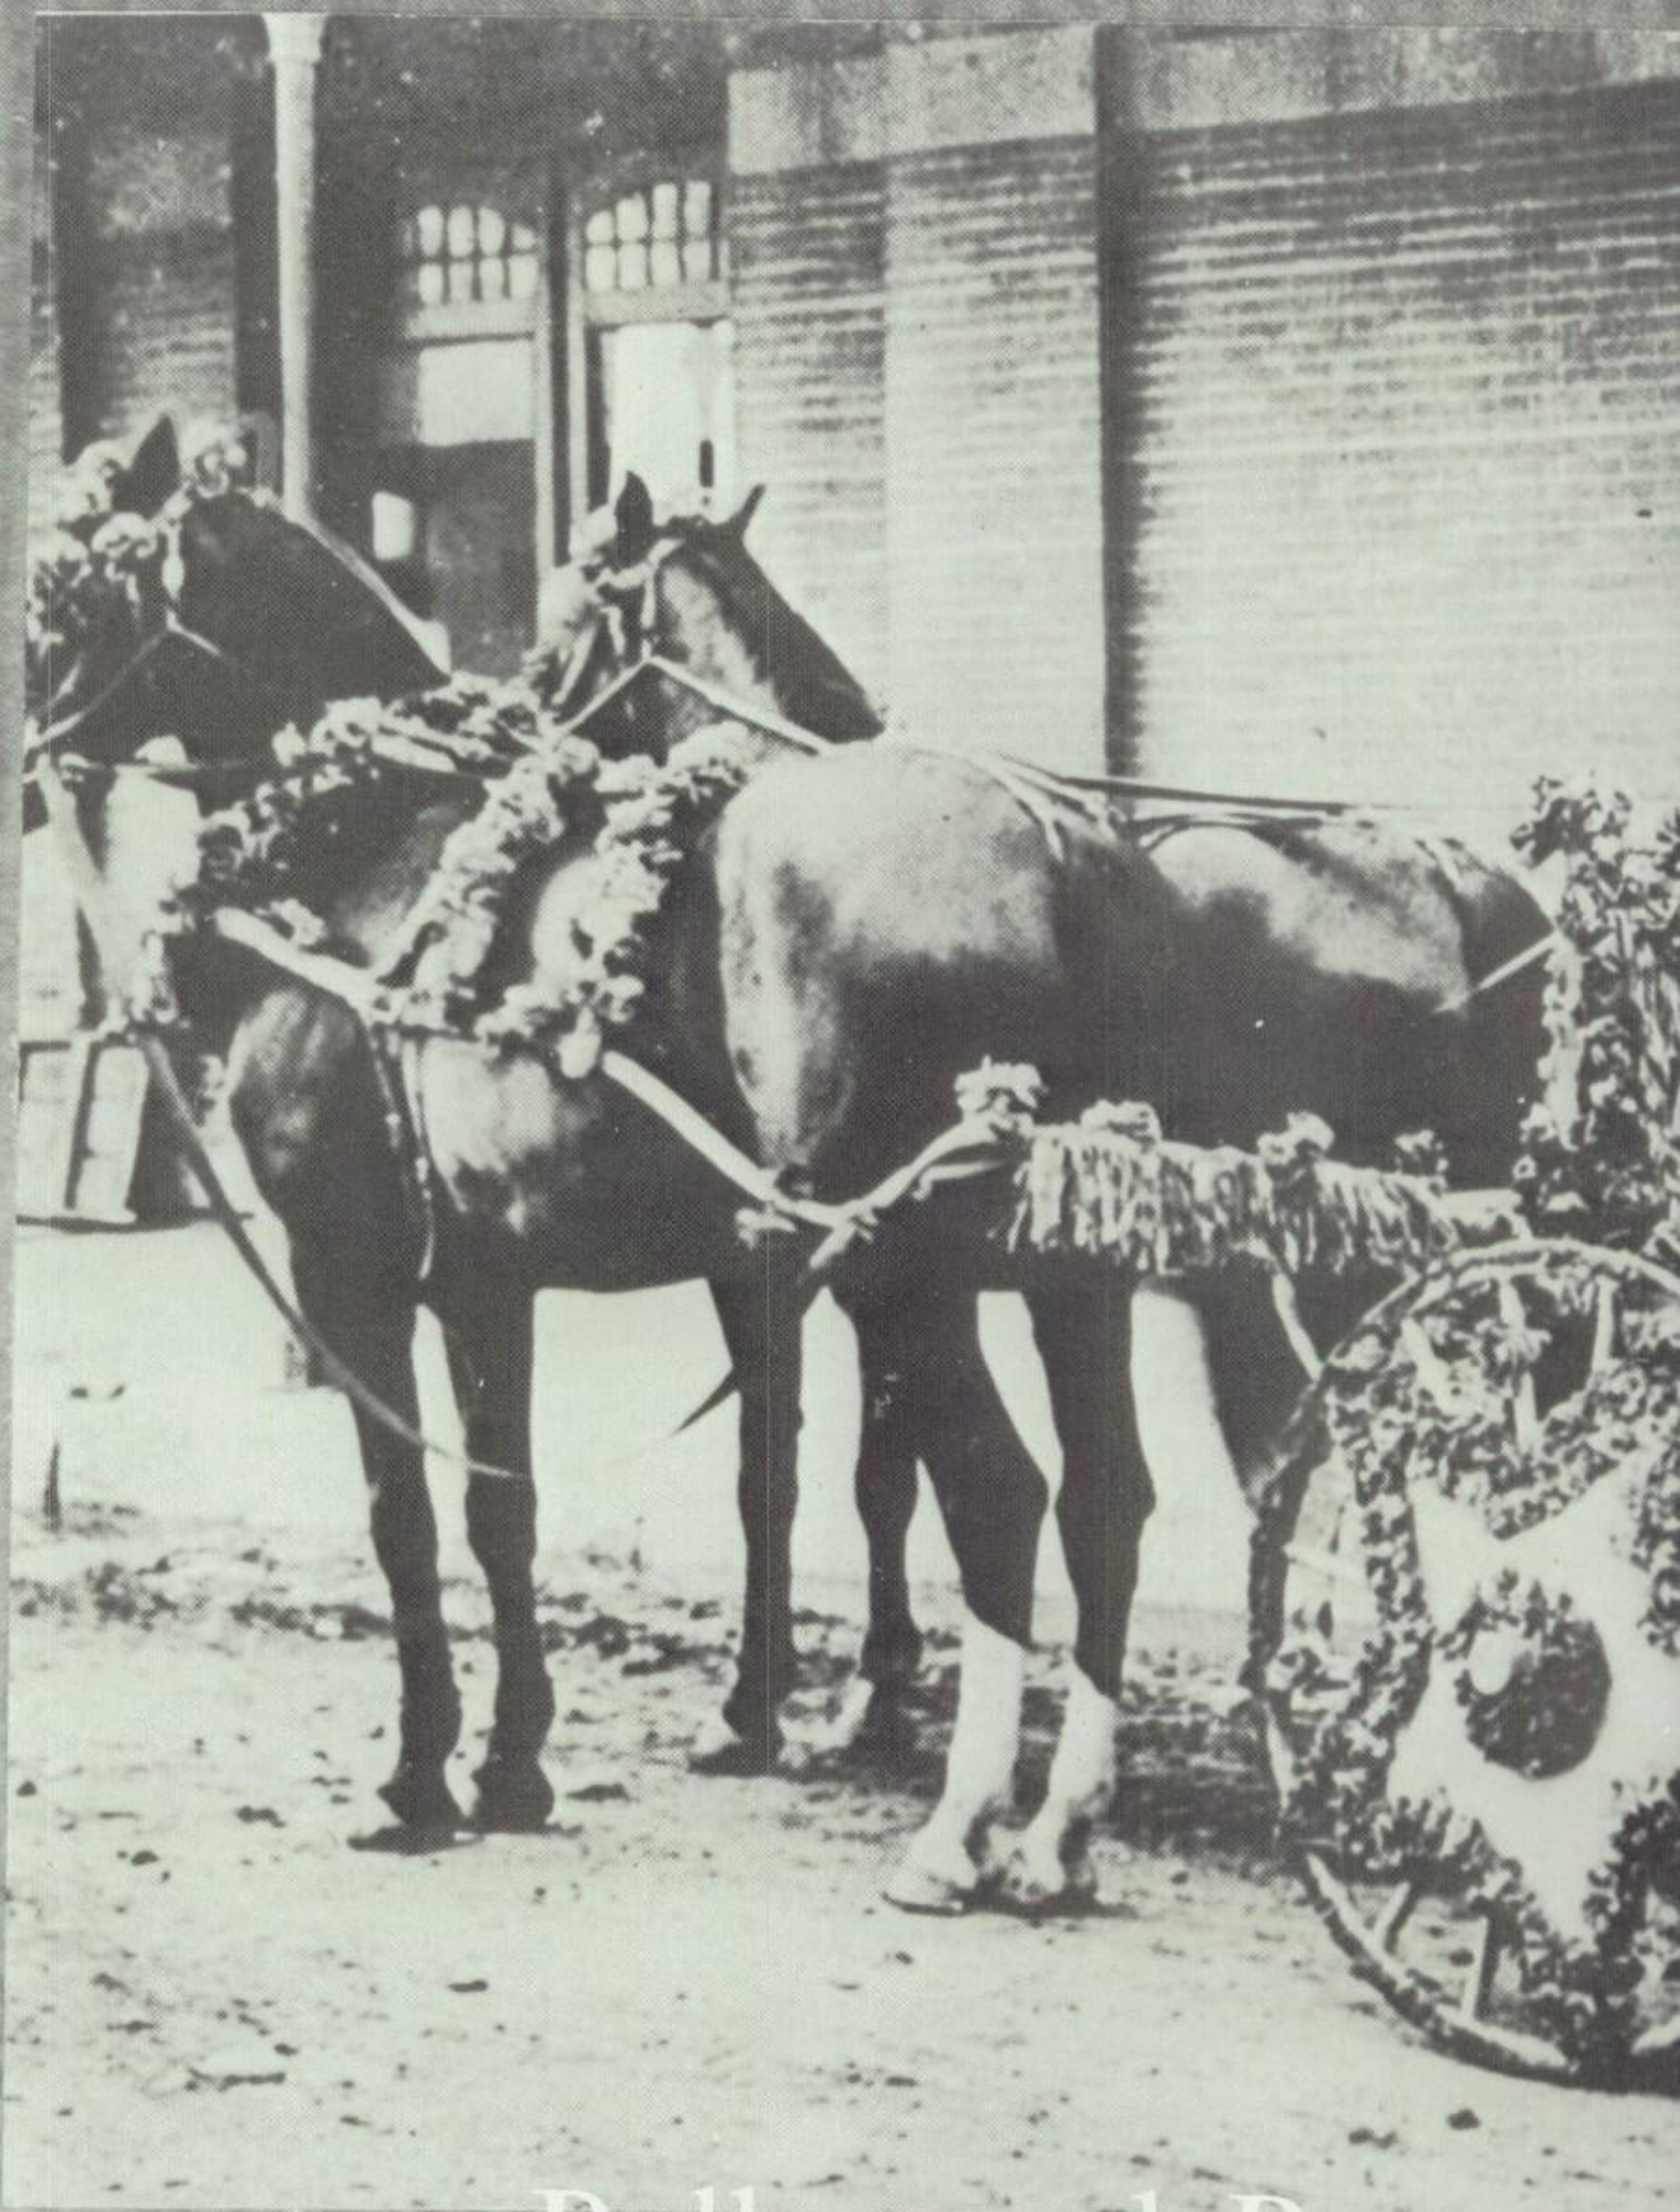

As Bambi surveys the proceedings and gives advice to his master, David Worley, Nancy Cottingham, Melinda Slone, and Cindy Wehrmann ignore their comments and continue constructing the coloring boxes.

Bible Club officers for 1966-1967 included David Worley, president; Terry Mealer, vice-president; and Stephanie Reed, secretary. Singing, giving can goods, making coloring boxes, and preparing Easter baskets were the club's projects.

Melinda Slone and Jerri Mason collect assorted "goodies" for the Easter Baskets given to the childrens' hospital.

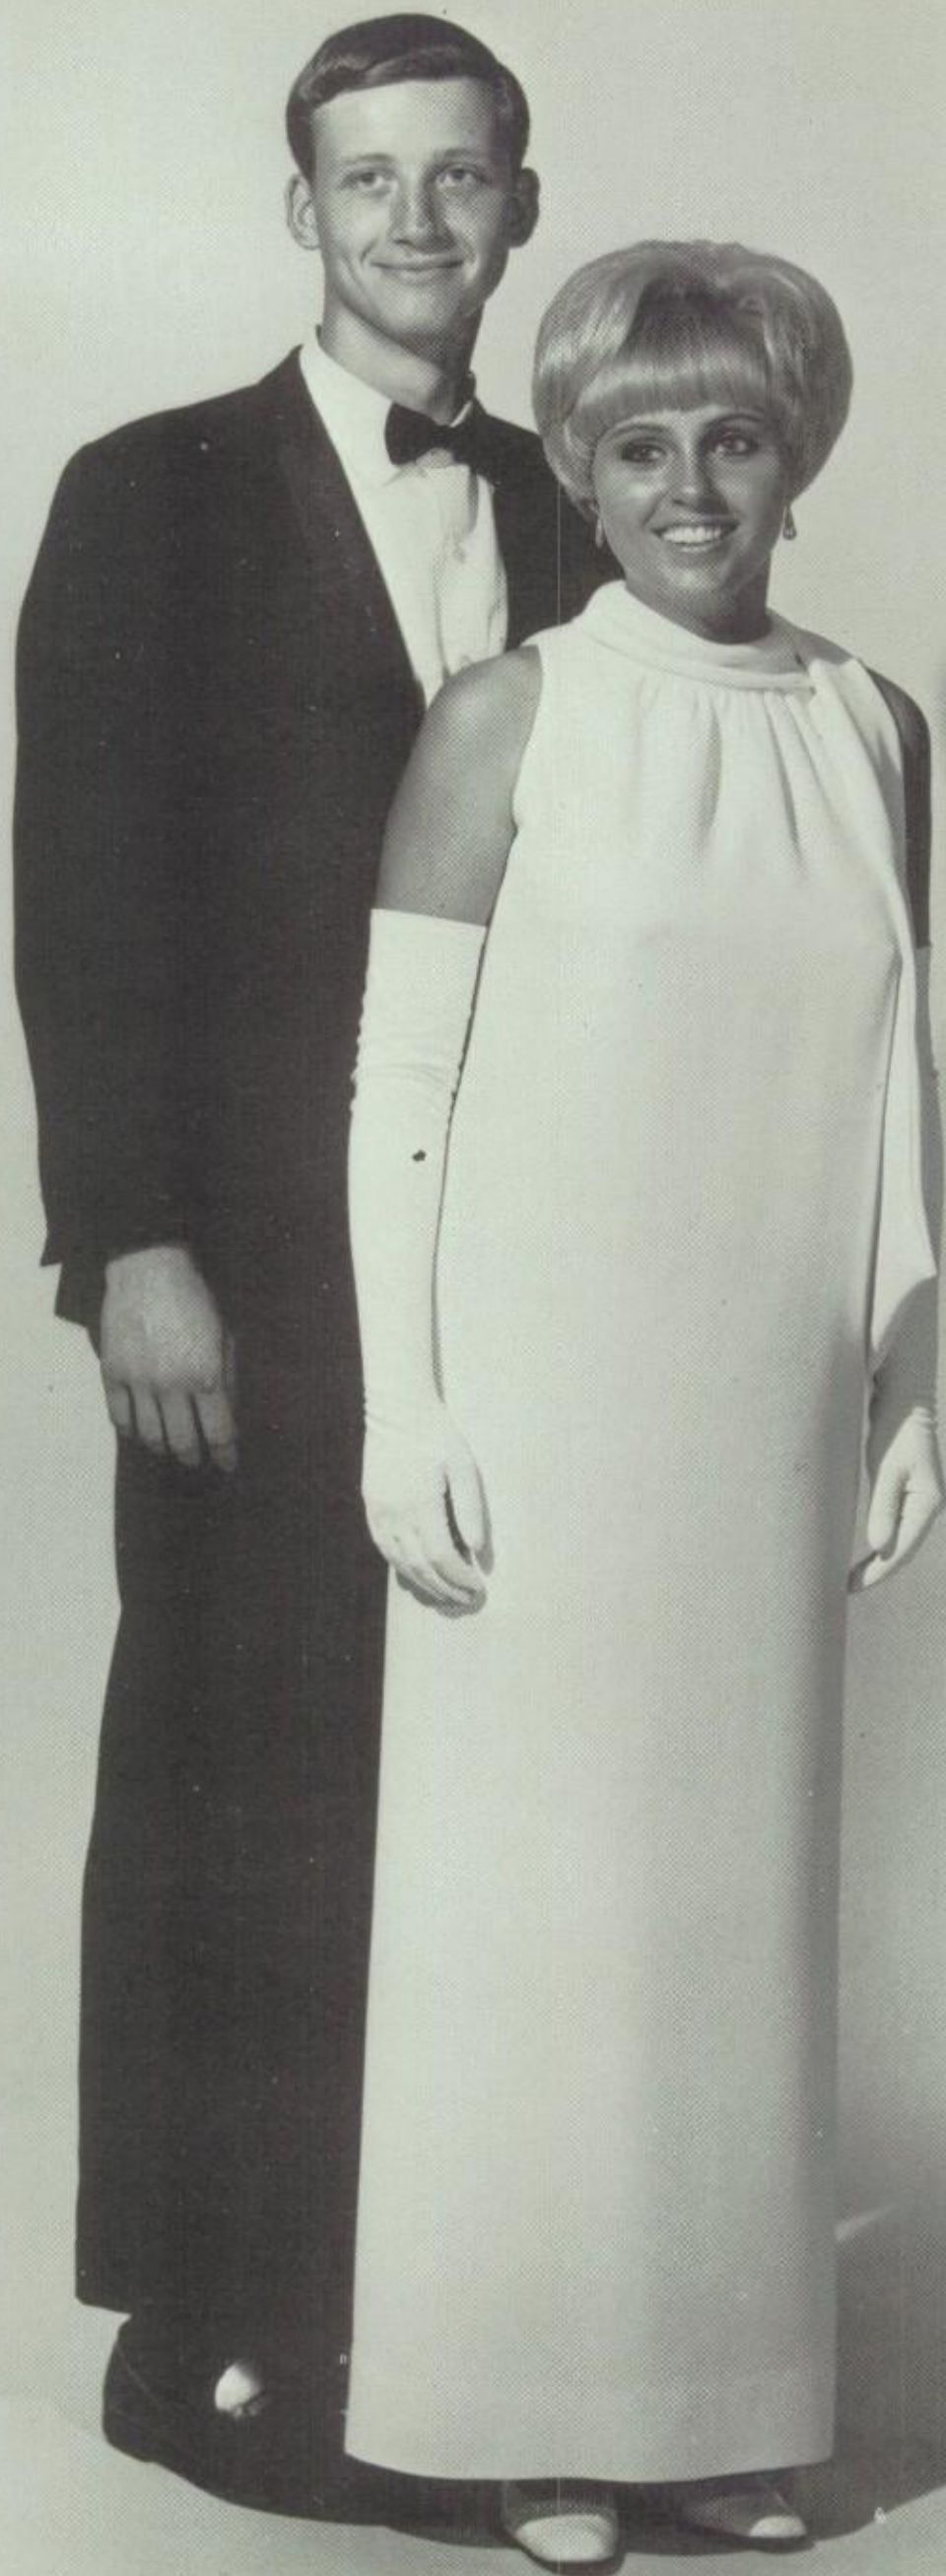

Under the watchful eyes of Jerri Mason, Stephanie Reed and Chuck Gilbert happily decorate plastic bottles which will be used as crayon holders at local childrens' hospitals.

Belles and Beaus

Every city has had citizens who have been known throughout the country for their great, as well as not so great, deeds. Fort Worth is no exception. Its well known citizens have ranged from great philanthropists to peace officers and unsavory characters, recognized for their ability to cause trouble. The most celebrated of six-gun experts in Fort Worth was Jim Courtwright, who was the city marshal from 1876 to 1879. Later he was head of a detective agency. Courtwright convinced most of the saloon owners that they needed his protection, the one exception being Luke Short. The two engaged in a shooting contest; Courtwright lost. Ironically they now rest only a few feet apart in Oakwood Cemetery. Pictured are contestants in the Yellow Rose of Texas-Fort Worth flower parade.

Mr. and Miss EHHS

Mary Buyers lists as her ambitions being an airline stewardess or archaeologist. She plans to attend the University of Texas at Arlington this fall, transferring to the University of Houston next year. Teddy Kitchens was active in many school functions. In both his junior and senior years, he was elected vice-president of his class. He served as president of the Safety Council and represented his homeroom in the Red Cross. He was chosen as class favorite in his sophomore year and was a favorite finalist in his junior year. Outside of school, Teddy was an active participant in Young Life and Sagamore Hill Baptist Church. His hobbies include hunting and fishing. At present his goal for the future is to become a lawyer.

Cowpokes

An anonymous poet once said, "True glory dwells where glorious deeds are done, Where great men rise whose names athwart the dusk." True glory is a dweller of Fort Worth, as this city is not without its famous and successful citizens. These people were educated in Fort Worth public schools and have gone on to excel in various fields of government service, science, business and industry, sports, and entertainment. Among them are Price Daniel, Paschal '27, former governor of Texas; Johnny Vaught, Poly '29, University of Mississippi head football coach; Darrow Hooper, North Side '49, Olympic shot put champion; Van Williams, Arlington Heights '52, movie and television actor; and Judy Hill, Eastern Hills '63, 1965 Maid of Cotton. Pictured are students at an academy in 1910.
